HARRY S. TURNER GOES TO TRIAL IN FEDERAL COURT

Accusation Taken Up That Publisher of "Much Ado" Sent Obscene Matter Through the Mails.

MAN MALIGNED IS SERVING IN FRANCE

His Name Not Mentioned, but Submitted in Writing to Talesmen and Several Friends Are Excused.

Harry S. Turner, editor of a semi-monthly publication, "Much Ado," went to trial before Judge Munger and a jury in the United States District Court today on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. He also is under indictment on three counts charging violation of the espionage act, but these charges are not to be taken up at the present trial.

The accusation of sending obscene matter through the mails is based on the allegation that he enclosed proofs of an article prepared for publication in "Much Ado" in a letter written to George Hagee of 5217 Raymond avenue, co-trustee with the St. Louis Union Trust Co. of the estate of Turner's father. Hagee is now a lieutenant and has been serving as intelligence officer of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry in France. It was alleged in the indictment that the proofs mailed to Hagee by Turner contained defamatory statements about a prominent St. Louis man. The alleged object in submitting the proofs was a threat that the matter would be published unless the man agreed to extend a note for Turner.

Had $18,000 loan. A loan of $18,000, made to Turner by Hagee's father 15 years ago, was about to come due. Turner wanted it renewed but had been unable to obtain an extension and foreclosure on garage property owned by Turner on Delmar boulevard near King's highway had been threatened. The article, proofs of which were sent to Hagee by Turner was chiefly a reproduction of letters that passed between Turner, Hagee and John F. Shepley, president of the St. Louis Trust Co., in reference to renewal of the loan.

In one of the letters Turner wrote that unless the note was renewed he would divorce his wife and go to New York and marry a wealthy widow. "Your persistent refusal to renew the loan will force me to this immoral course," he wrote.

In another letter he said those who were prosecuting him had agreed to renew the loan for a year "if he would go to war, where he might be killed."

Denies Offered, Overruled. At the opening of the case both sides announced themselves ready, but after this was done, Henry V. Blodgett, of counsel for Turner, filed a demurrer alleging that the indictment was faulty in that it did not contain all of the matter in the proofs and did not show the exact place at which the proofs were mailed.

Judge Munger overruled the demurrer and the impaneling of a jury was begun. Before examining the members of the jury panel, Special Assistant Attorney-General Williams made a statement in which he said the alleged obscene matter was contained in the proofs of a projected special edition of Much Ado and that it was matter concerning "a St. Louis man well known in business and in social circles," whose name he did not mention.

He wrote the name of this man on a slip of paper and passed it among the talesmen, asking if any of them knew the man or had had business dealings with him. He explained that the obscenity of the writings and their submission in the mails were the issue of the trial and not the truth or falsity of the matter concerning the prominent St. Louisman.

John D. Perry Lewis, president of an automobile company, was excused from jury service on his statement that he was a social and business friend of the man in question. Several others on the panel were excused on the ground of their acquaintance with the man mentioned in the proofs.

Subject Matter Identified. F. H. Bacon, an attorney, identified the envelope and proofs and a letter to Hagee which accompanied them. He said Hagee was out of town and there was an arrangement that letters addressed to him were to be forwarded to the Bacon home at 5816 Raymond avenue. The communication had been opened when he received it, he said.

Bacon's daughter, Miss Marie Bacon, also identified the envelope and its contents. She testified she opened the envelope before her father came home.

On cross-examination Miss Bacon

U. S. AIRPLANES CONTROLLED BY RADIO TELEPHONE

Successful Development Which Had Been Withheld, Made Known by Ryan.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Squadrons of American airplanes fighting in France up to the moment of the armistice were maneuvering under the vocal orders of the squadron commander that reached each pilot by radio telephone.

News of the successful development of this device hitherto a military secret, though some inkling of it had reached the Germans just before hostilities ceased, was allowed to become public today by John A. Ryan, director of aircraft production.

"There are some details concerning which we cannot discuss yet," Mr. Ryan said, "but the radio devices worked out during months of experiment went into actual service some weeks ago. I have myself, standing on the ground, given orders to a squadron flying in the air, and watched them maneuver accordingly. The transmission of the voice is clear enough to be heard distinctly through the sound of the airplane motor. It is in every way the most satisfactory means of communicating between planes in the air and from the ground to planes."

The radio telephone has worked a distance of some miles. W. C. Potter of the Equipment Division of the Bureau said: "For some months it has been possible in our office in Washington to hear the planes flying miles over the ground and to see them and to the ground as they worked out and perfected the device."

THREE ST. LOUISANS IN LIST OF AMERICANS HELD PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—A list of prisoners in German prison camps announced today by the War Department includes: Officers—At Karlsruhe, Lieut. Roland Tait, of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry in France. It was alleged in the indictment that the proofs mailed to Hagee by Turner contained defamatory statements about a prominent St. Louis man. The alleged object in submitting the proofs was a threat that the matter would be published unless the man agreed to extend a note for Turner.

At camp unknown, Herman Talbot, 3801 Florissant avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

First Lieutenant Roland S. Tait of the Twelfth Balloon Company, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick H. Tait of 701 Limit avenue, was taken prisoner Sept. 12. He was a balloon observer and drifted with the German lines. He was a Washington University student and was leader of the glee club and manager of the dramatic club. He was trained in the balloon school here at Meramec Park, and also at Omaha.

Edward Litchen, 24 years old, of 1322 Hebert street, a member of H. Company, 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, was taken prisoner July 15. He resided with his mother, Mrs. Bertha Litchen, a native of Germany, and formerly was employed at the Brown Shoe Co. factory at Eighteenth and Wash streets. Mrs. Litchen has another son, Private Otto Litchen, in the Medical Corps in France.

At the Florissant avenue address it was said Talbot was not known there.

FRENCH ACADEMY EXPECTED TO ELECT FOCH AND CLEMENCEAU

Exceptional Session Next Thursday Probably Will Take Action Without Contest.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Members of the French Academy at a meeting held yesterday decided to hold an exceptional election session next Thursday. In spite of the academy's secrecy it is certain that Foch and Clemenceau will be elected without a contest.

INFLUENZA CHECKED IN CAMPS

Disease Is Wearing Itself Out in the West, the Last Section to be Affected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—For the first time since Spanish influenza became epidemic in army camps at the front, the Surgeon-General's weekly report shows the disease to be effectively checked. Figures made public today record 6887 cases for the week ending Nov. 8, as compared with 18,175 the previous week. The epidemic is wearing itself out in the West, the last section to be affected.

FOCH SENDS U. S. MISSION TO MEET GERMANS AT SPA

Party of Six Officers and 19 Men Is Headed by Maj.-Gen. Rhodes, He Informs Enemy Headquarters.

WASHINGTON VIEW OF AIM IN MOVE

Opinion Expressed Action Is to Arrange for Occupation of Fortresses in Alsace-Lorraine.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—An American mission, commanded by Major-General Rhodes, will leave Saturday for Spa, German headquarters, Marshal Foch announces in a wireless message to the German high command. The mission will consist of six officers and 19 soldiers. The German command is asked to give instructions to allow the mission to pass.

The wireless message reads: "From the allied high command to the German high command at Spa: American mission, consisting of six officers and 19 soldiers in nine motor cars, with Gen. Rhodes as chief of mission, will leave for Spa on the morning of the 16th by the way of La Capelle, Beaumont, Philippeville, Liege and Spa. Please give instructions to allow the mission to pass."

Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson on Naval Term Commission. By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson has been appointed American member of the naval commission to arrange for the execution of the naval terms of the German armistice. Admiral Robinson arrived here Monday from the United States on receipt of his appointment left yesterday for London to take up his duties.

Rear Admiral Bullard has been appointed American representative to see to the carrying out of the naval terms of the Austrian armistice. He is now at Pola, the great naval base in the Adriatic and has telegraphed Admiral William S. Benson, American chief of naval operations, that the execution of the naval terms of the armistice are proceeding satisfactorily.

Probable Purpose of Mission as Indicated in Washington. By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—News that an American military mission, headed by Major-General Charles D. Rhodes, commander of the Forty-second (Rainbow) Division at last reports, will visit German great headquarters at Spa, Belgium, next Saturday, has aroused much speculation. So far as has been learned no official information as to the object of the trip has reached Washington.

The purely military character of the mission is regarded as an indication that Gen. Rhodes' trip is for the purpose of arranging with the German high command for the occupation of various fortresses in Alsace-Lorraine, which lie in front of the Metz-Thionville positions and Strasbourg on the Rhine.

Previous reports show that definite dates have been fixed by Marshal Foch for his entry into those German strongholds, and his directions to the Germans as to the time and method of their retirement may be carried by the American officers. It is possible that immediate steps to relieve the food situation in Germany, to some extent with the surplus stores of the American army in France, may be under consideration.

Gen. Pershing has available at least a three months' stock for his forces, and it is constantly being increased. Secretary Baker indicated yesterday that it might be possible to use some part of this reserve to meet urgent needs in enemy territory, although he did not say any definite plan had been framed.

MAILING TIME LIMIT EXTENDED ON SOLDIER CHRISTMAS PARCELS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Extension to Nov. 30 of the time during which Christmas parcels will be accepted for mailing to members of the American Expeditionary Forces in France is announced by the Post-office and War Departments.

The extension was due, it was said, to the fact that the men of several divisions, which were in combat, have only lately been able to fill out the parcel labels without which packages will not be accepted by the postal authorities.

The Postoffice Department announced, however, that to insure delivery by Christmas, parcels should be mailed as soon as possible.

LANSING, ROOT, BRANDIES AND HOUSE MENTIONED AS PROBABLE PEACE DELEGATES

Belief Grows in Washington President Will Attend Opening Sessions but Not as Delegate—Versailles Seems Certain to Be Place.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—American delegates to the great peace conference are understood to have been selected by President Wilson, although three probably will be no announcement until the plan for the meeting has been decided upon formally by the interallied council, which reassembled today in France. Discussion in well informed quarters today of the probable personnel of the delegation centered upon four names. They are: Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, to head the mission; E. M. House, now in France attending the interallied council as the personal representative of the President; Elihu Root and Louis D. Brandeis, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

The belief is growing here that President Wilson himself will attend the opening sessions of the congress, though not to sit as a delegate around the peace table. Much of the real work of the peace conference, it is believed here, already has been done by the Supreme War Council. As a preliminary to the meeting of the conference, however, it will be necessary for the allied and American Governments to decide to what extent and by what title the provisional governments which have seized the reins of power in Berlin and Vienna represent the peoples of their countries. This is a delicate subject, and officials confess that they have only foggy ideas as to the actual governmental situations in these capitals.

The development of the separate movements in Austria and Germany, resulting in the upping of so-called independent republics on the basis of former German and Austrian provinces, promises to present much difficulty in the further progress of peace negotiations. Each of these states is expected to be represented at the peace table, and adjustment of all these delicate questions is one of the tasks confronting the Supreme War Council.

Peace Conference Seems Certain to Go to Versailles. PARIS, Nov. 15.—Versailles, although not formally chosen as the meeting place of the peace negotiations, is regarded as almost certain to be the place selected for the peace conference when the interallied council reassembles today.

The real work of the negotiations will be carried on in Paris, where it is probable that delegations from all the countries will reside temporarily, the members going out to Versailles now and then for plenary sessions of the conference. There also is little doubt that the supreme act of signing the peace agreement will take place at Versailles in the same historical hall where the German Empire was proclaimed in 1871.

Selection of Versailles for the peace meeting would serve as a recognition of France's paramount position in the war. Agents of the various allied countries already are seeking large houses in Paris for their delegations. The American representation will move from the small residence which Col. House and his staff now occupy to one much larger.

It is expected that the first meeting of the peace congress will be on a date before Dec. 15, after the English parliamentary elections, and at a time which will give ample opportunity for the American and other delegates to arrive. A meeting to be held shortly of the inter-allied conference will finally determine the details of these questions.

Premier David Lloyd George and Foreign Minister Balfour of Great Britain, Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy, Premier Venizelos of Greece and Foreign Minister Pachitch of Serbia are on their way here for a resumption of the conferences at the home of the League of Nations.

Besides outlining the general program of the congress, the question of meeting the food situation in Germany and the financial situation probably will be considered.

EXTREMISTS CAUSING ANXIETY IN HOLLAND

London Express-Dispatch Says They Have Demanded Wilhelm's Abdication. By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The threatening attitude of the extremists in Holland, who have demanded the abdication of Queen Wilhelmina, is causing anxiety at The Hague, according to the Daily Express.

Jonkheer Colyn, the former Minister of War, who has been in London Thursday, was recalled, the Daily Express believes, to take charge of the Government. The former Minister has great influence in Holland and several times has refused requests of the Queen to form a new Government.

Holland Admits "Grave Crisis," Due to Socialist Threats. THE HAGUE, Thursday, Nov. 14.—The Dutch Government has issued a proclamation urgently appealing for the co-operation of citizens in a "grave crisis." It says the minority Government is threatening to seize power and declares its determination to maintain authority and order.

"Socialist Revolution" Threatens, London Chronicle Correspondent Reports. LONDON, Nov. 15.—"Holland is threatened with 'socialist revolution,'" an Amsterdam dispatch to the Daily Chronicle reports. "Speeches at Rotterdam by Troelstra, Socialist leader, and other prominent Socialists have created an enormous sensation throughout the country, and it is probable that things may come to a head at the end of the week. Troelstra declared that he spoke at a moment when it was for the working classes to take the power in their own hands. They would not demand it, he said; they would take it."

Pieter Jansen Troelstra, leader of the Dutch 'Socialists' and president of the International Socialist Bureau, was so strongly and so firmly pro-German throughout the war that he was not allowed to attend the recent British Labor Congress. He was a tireless promoter, if not the actual inventor, of the plan to hold a Socialist conference in Stockholm at which the workmen of the allied countries were expected to meet representatives of the German Socialists.

SOLDIERS SAID TO HAVE SAVED THE BERLIN SITUATION

Correspondent Declares They Seem to Have Checked Bolshevism and Given Moderate Socialist Chance.

28 MEN NOW REAL CENTER OF POWER

Soldiers and Workmen's Executive Committee Declares for a Constitutional Assembly.

By ARNO BOSCH FLEUROT. A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 15.—Bolshevism has been checked in Germany by the soldiers threatening to take things in their own hands in the Soviet and establish a soldier dictatorship if unity is not maintained. They gave to the Moderate Socialists, who form the majority, a chance to hold their democratic program.

The Bolsheviks, whose hope is to force an immediate proletarian dictatorship, dare not face the firmness of the soldiers. The result, as reported by the Berlin correspondent of the Hamburg Fremdenblatt, is that the new Government has come to an agreement with the Executive Committee of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Council, and has decided to proceed immediately to the election of a constitutional assembly. The correspondent says that even the radicals are willing to accept the program.

The Democratic Socialist program, issued by the German people's representatives, proof of the success of the moderate movement, following their apparent yielding of everything to the Independents yesterday.

The Executive Committee consists of 14 soldiers and 14 workmen. They form a repository of power, with the right to dismiss the Government. Once appointed, these 28 men become the dictators of Germany, the majority half of them moderates and half of them Independents, but really majority Socialists.

London News Is That Bolshevism Declines in Berlin. Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Bolshevik movement in Germany is losing ground. Dispatches from Berlin say that Berlin is comparatively quiet, although shooting is continuing in different parts of the city, especially in the Friedrichstrasse and Unter den Linden.

At the Victoria Hotel the soldiers' soviet headquarters, the shooters are unknown, say these dispatches. It is rumored that officers and the rowdy elements have obtained arms, as have members of the Liebknecht party.

Liebknecht is unpopular, and has few followers, and it is rumored that Rosa Luxemburg was arrested while attempting to create disorders. The broad masses of the population are entirely supporting the Government, and everybody is bitter against Bolshevism. Many soldiers and workmen spoken to are anti-Bolshevik.

Last night the Swedish wireless received this radio, addressed to Kowne, German Soviet, Russian Bolshevik Government: "The German Soviet movement is anti-Bolshevik. The German Soviets on the east frontier greet the Russian people and decline to have anything in common with destructive, oppressive Bolsheviks. Will not the Soviet Government rob the hungry Russian people. Hope you at last bow yourselves before the will of the whole people and cease the minority terror."

121,315 BALLOTS CAST IN CITY FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT

The official count of votes in the election of Tuesday, Nov. 7, which was made public today by the Election Board, shows that a total of 121,315 votes were cast in St. Louis for the office of Judge of the Supreme Court. The total vote cast here for President in 1916 was 162,000.

The Socialist vote was first made public in the official returns. The highest vote cast here for a Socialist candidate was 322, for W. L. Garber for the office of State Superintendent of Schools. In 1916 the Socialist candidate for President got 3484 votes in St. Louis.

BILL IN CONGRESS TO MAKE JULY 4 WORLD HOLIDAY

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Representative Pease of Ohio has introduced a resolution setting aside July 4, 1919, as a day of world celebration to commemorate the ending of the war, and appropriating half a million dollars for a celebration in Washington to which all Governments, including Teutonic, would be invited.

A resolution by Representative Harrison of Mississippi would make

Baker Sends Thanks to Army and Promises to Help Rush Recall

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Expressions of the nation's proud esteem were cabled to Gen. Pershing for the American army in France today by Secretary Baker, with a promise that now, a respite has come, the War Department will do all in its power to expedite the early return of the expeditionary force so that the country may welcome its soldiers home.

The Secretary's message follows: "The signing of the armistice and the cessation of hostilities bring to an end a great and heroic military adventure in which the army, under your command, has played a part distinguished by gallantry and success. It gives me pleasure to express to you the confidence and appreciation of the War Department and to those who have labored with you to make this result possible, this appreciation of their zeal, courage and strength both of purpose and achievement. The entire country is filled with pride in your fine leadership and in the soldierly qualities shown by your army."

"Now that a respite has come in a solemn task to which the army devoted itself, the War Department will do all in its power, to expedite the early return of the expeditionary force to the United States, in order that the country may welcome its soldiers home and in order that these soldiers may be restored to the opportunity of civil life as speedily as the military situation will permit."

To extend to you, as commanding General of the American expeditionary forces, my hearty congratulations and this expression of high esteem and I beg you to make known to the officers and men of your command the fact that their conduct as soldiers and as men have stirred the pride of their fellow countrymen and that their military success has contributed to the great victory of the forces of civilization and humanity."

NAVAL TERMS OF ARMISTICES BEING CARRIED OUT RAPIDLY

Fact True as to Both German and Austrian Conditions, Paris Announcement Says.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—The naval terms of the German and Austrian armistices are being carried out rapidly. Admiral Huzar Rodman will be the American representative at a meeting tomorrow with German naval delegates at a British port.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 15.—The German cruiser Koenigsberg, which is carrying the naval terms of the armistice, it is understood here, will be met by British warships this afternoon and will be escorted to a point at sea where the German delegates will meet Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the British grand fleet.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—The French cruiser Amiral Aube left Brest today for the Firth of Forth, Scotland where it will be placed at the disposal of Admiral Grasset, the French delegate to the inter-allied commission entrusted with the carrying out of the naval conditions of the armistice.

LIQUOR STILL BARRED TO ARMY

Secretary Baker Telegraphs Mayor Kiel to Maintain Restrictions.

Secretary of War Baker has telegraphed Mayor Kiel that the restrictions on the sale of liquor to soldiers and their moral protection are not to be relaxed because fighting in France has ended.

"The War Department is determined to return soldiers to their families and civil life uncontaminated by disease," the message read.

High Officials of French Army and Government to Go to Strassburg in December to Celebrate Recovery of Alsace-Lorraine.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Gen. Hirschauer of the second French army will reach Metz on Sunday evening, according to Marcel Butin, editor of the Echo de Paris. He will not make an official entry of the city, however, until Monday.

Representatives of the German civil and military authorities will go to Nancy today to reach an agreement with Leon Mirman, director of public relief, on important questions arising from the taking over by the French of the administration of Alsace and Lorraine.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—American army landed at Cologne on the Rhine Thursday, according to a Cologne dispatch to the Copenhagen Politiken and transmitted by the Exchange Telegraph Co.

May Resume Old Names

It is possible that the department's in the re-own territory will resume their old names, namely Bas Rhin, Moselle, Saarland, Haut Rhin, Metz, Luxembourg, and Moselle. The occupation of the territory on the left bank of the Rhine and the bridgeheads will not be undertaken by the allied forces until later.

The liberation of Belgium promises to be rapidly accomplished. In the occasion of the re-entry of Belgian sovereignty into Brussels, the French Government has decided to present to the Queen the grand Cordons of the Legion of Honor and to the self-appointed the Chevaliers of the Cross and the Cross of War.

In conformity with the agreement reached between Marshal Foch and the German delegates, a period of five days has been allowed to the enemy in which to hand over all the armament material stipulated in the armistice.

Mines in Ostend Station.

The French command asked the Germans for information as to where mines had been laid and was informed that none had been placed in the Ostend station and timed to explode yesterday. The German command accordingly was asked to send officers to locate the explosives.

An additional day, making 15 days in all from the date of the armistice, has been granted to the enemy to evacuate Belgium, Luxembourg, Alsace and Lorraine.

Marshal Foch has directed the Germans to send officers to the King of the Belgians at Bruges to give information regarding the German and Luxembourg railroad and canal systems and the navigation of the Rhine.

The Germans are sending an officer to China to arrange with French officers for the handover

GERMAN WOMEN APPEAL FOR AID TO MRS. WILSON

Wireless Asks for Her Influence in Getting Armistice Modified to Prevent "Un-speakable Disaster."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Appeals addressed to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Miss Jane Addams of Chicago on behalf of the women of Germany, asking that the armistice terms be modified to prevent "unspeakable disaster," have been sent from the German wireless station at Nauen. They were picked up by the military intelligence radio at Haulton, Me., and were made public last night by the War Department.

It was said at the White House today that any reply which might be made to the appeal addressed to Mrs. Wilson probably would go through diplomatic channels. The appeal to Mrs. Wilson said the women and children of Germany have been "starving for years" and that they "will die from hunger by the millions" unless the terms of the armistice are changed so that sufficient rolling stock will be made available for moving food from the farms. It was dated at Berlin and signed by Gertrude Baumer and Alice Solomon for the "National Council of Women of Germany."

The appeal to Miss Addams was from Miss Anita Augsborg at Poz, under date of yesterday. It said that the German women, foreseeing entire famishment and mutiny for their country, "urged their American sisters" to intercede to have the armistice terms modified.

"We are all free voters of a free republic now, greeting you heartily," the appeal said.

Message to Mrs. Wilson.
The message to Mrs. Wilson follows:

Berlin, Nov. 12, 1918.
To Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, White House, Washington, D. C.

Madame—According to the terms of the armistice Germany has to surrender a very large part of the rolling stock of her railways. At the same time she has to feed the troops of her former enemies in the occupied provinces of Germany. The German women and children have been starving for years. They will die from hunger by the millions if the terms of the armistice are not changed. We need the rolling stock of the railways to bring the food from the farms to the cities. It will be impossible to feed the soldiers of the occupying armies if we cannot get large amounts of food from overseas. The women and children all the world over have been the innocent sufferers of this terrible war, but nowhere more than in Germany. Let it be through you, Madame, to improve our sisters in the United States of America, who are mothers like ourselves, to ask their Government and the allied Governments to change the terms of the armistice so that the long suffering of the women and children may not end in unspeakable disaster.

For the National Council of Women of Germany,
GERTRUDE BAUMER,
ALICE SALOMON.
The message to Miss Addams follows:

Poz, Nov. 13, 1918.
To Jane Addams, Hull House, Chicago.

German women, foreseeing entire famishment and mutiny for their country, urge their American sisters to intercede relief of the conditions regarding the terms of demobilization, blockade, wagons, locomotives. We are all free voters of a free republic now, greeting you heartily.

ANITA AUGSBORG.

Jane Addams Says She Does Not Know Woman Who Signed Plea.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Miss Jane Addams, who had not received a message of appeal from the women of Germany up to a late hour last night, said she had no intimation regarding the identity of Anita Augsborg, who was reported to have signed the plea.

of the arms and material which Germany has to surrender.

French and Americans Reported Occupying Portions of Alsace.
GENEVA, Thursday, Nov. 14.—It is announced from Basel that French and American troops have been occupying portions of Alsace, evacuated by the Germans. The allies are being warmly welcomed by the population. The Swiss postal authorities at Basel have requested that future correspondence be carried on only in the French language with towns in Alsace-Lorraine.

Allied prisoners who have been liberated are being fed by the Alsacians and Lorrainians. Even the departing German soldiers have fraternized with the populations. Several Prussian officers who attempted to dominate over their troops were shot.

MARGARET WILSON TO SING TO OUR FIRST ARMY TODAY

By the Associated Press.
HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, SOULLY, France, Thursday, Nov. 14.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, is to sing at headquarters here tomorrow. In the afternoon she will give a recital for the officers, and in the evening another for the enlisted men. Since Monday there have been daily concerts in Souilly, and also at Toul, headquarters of the second army. The Ligny headquarters force is now organizing.

TRAUB'S TRIBUTE TO MEN IN 35TH DIVISION

Worthy of Best Army Traditions, Says Commander of St. Louis Units.

Citations of the "courage and devotion to duty" in the Argonne fighting of the units of the 35th Division, including the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, the 13th (St. Louis) Artillery and the 119th (St. Louis) Ammunition Train, has been made by Major-General Peter Traub, commander of the division, copies of which, dated Oct. 14, have been received in St. Louis.

"The task of making a record of the individual acts of courage and devotion to duty in the face of the most deadly artillery and machine gun fire is an impossible one, for many of them will never be known," the citation states. "No greater praise or commendation to the officers and men can be bestowed than to say they performed the tasks set for them in a spirit and manner worthy of the best traditions and ideals of the American army."

"You have met and defeated picked divisions of the enemy? You never failed to respond cheerfully to whatever difficult and dangerous tasks may have been set for you to perform. You have accomplished these tasks with a fearlessness, courage and disregard of danger and hardship which fully justifies the pride which those at home have in you. Vauquois, Bois de Rossignol, Ouvrage d'Aiden, Cheppy, Charpeny, Rancy, Bois de Montrebeau. Exempts are names that you take pride in passing on to your native states as having been the scenes of your feats of arms."

"The spirits of our dead comrades are with us to urge us on to greater deeds to our country's noble cause. To their families and friends we extend our heartfelt sympathy. To our wounded we hope for a speedy and safe return to our ranks that they may add their great spirit and enthusiasm to those of their more fortunate brothers in arms."

Mention in divisional orders also is made of the services in the battle of the Argonne of Maj. Norman B. Comfort of 4670 South Broadway, who has been recommended for promotion to Lieutenant-Colonel.

HARRY S. TURNER GOES TO TRIAL IN FEDERAL COURT

testified she was Hagee's fiancée and said there was an arrangement by which his mail should be delivered to her.

Postoffice Inspectors Martin and Lunney testified that late in October or early in November, 1917, Turner came to their office in the Federal Building and without coercion admitted sending the matter through the mails.

Prosecutor Williams handed the envelope to the jury for inspection and read the accompanying letter which was as follows:

"I enclose advance sheets of an Extra Much Ado which will appear in the next few days—probably Monday. It would have appeared earlier but for the fact that my printer was afraid of it. I have found another printer who is not afraid of it."

"I may go to jail for it, but it will not be for long. I know about the people of this city. I always enclose advance proofs in a case of this kind, that in case there is an injustice done it is not on my head."

"Yours truly,
"HARRY TURNER."

Government Rests Case.
Williams did not read the proofs which accompanied the letter, but reserved the right to do so later. The Government then rested its case.

Attorney Blodgett filed a demurrer to the evidence and the court announced the demurrers would be heard at the afternoon session.

PEACE NEWS LESSENS MORALE OF U. S. SOLDIERS AT HOME

Men on Leave Show an Inclination Not to Return on Time—Plea Made by War Department.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Cessation of hostilities in Europe and disappearance of the prospect of meeting the enemy in the battlefield has brought an immediate loss of morale among American troops at home that is regarded at the War Department as somewhat alarming. The soldier has become eager for his release from service.

Hundreds of cases are listed of men granted the usual 36-hour weekend leave, who have failed to return on time. These men automatically are charged with being "absent without leave," an offense but slightly less heinous than desertion under military law.

It is understood that relatives of soldiers who have absented themselves will be asked to assist the authorities in having them return promptly to spare the families the disgrace of having an armed guard sent with a view to mitigating the punishment of the offenders.

WIFE SLAYER WHO THREW BODY FROM TRAIN GETS 20 YEARS

By the Associated Press.
QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 15.—Irving Morgan was convicted of second degree murder in Shelby County Circuit Court at Shelbyville, Mo., for the murder of his wife, June 13, the jury returning a verdict imposing a 20-year sentence at 10:30 o'clock last night, after being out for six hours.

Morgan killed his wife on a Lexington train in Shelby County, Mo., and threw her body from the car window. His home is in Kansas City.

GERMANS KILLED IN BELGIAN RIOTS

Officers Shot in Fighting in Which 100 Are Reported Dead.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Thursday, Nov. 14.—More than 100 men, mostly German officers, have been killed in disorders in Brussels and Soldiers' Councils have been formed in that city and at Antwerp, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. quoting the Exchange.

A letter had been received from Field Marshal von Hindenburg, who was at Bingen-on-the-Rhine. It was read to the crowd: "I am heartily in sympathy with the regenerative movement. Soldiers must obey the orders of the supreme soldiers' committee. Let us have peace."

Some soldiers then entered the park, which had been closed to the public for four years. They smashed the marble slabs surrounding the beautiful ponds, broke their guns and threw the sunken water.

They then formed a procession, and singing the Marseillaise, paraded through the city behind the red flag. The only bloodshed in Brussels occurred on Monday, when a patrol detailed by the soldiers' committee to keep order fired upon a disorderly crowd, killing 12 civilians and wounding about 30. The crowd had disregarded the firing of a cannon volley by the soldiers.

Revolution Reported Comparatively Peaceful in South Germany.

GENEVA, Thursday, Nov. 14.—The revolution continues comparatively peaceful in the South German states, but further sanguinary disorders are reported to have occurred in Berlin, Essen and Danzig.

A majority of the Bavarian troops have suited the Tyrol hurriedly, as they were threatened with capture by the Italians, who are advancing in automobiles.

New Wurttemberg Cabinet; Baden Grand Duke Postpones Abdication.

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, Thursday, Nov. 14.—The Berlingske Tidende learns that the Wurttemberg Cabinet has been supplemented by members of the People's National, the Liberal and the Centrist parties.

A Karlsruhe dispatch declares the Grand Duke of Baden has postponed his abdication, the revolution in Baden having resumed a quieter aspect.

Advices from Berlin say that the Red Guard in Brunswick is arranging the high officials and high representatives of the military authorities and throwing them into prison.

INFLUENZA COSTS INSURANCE COMPANIES MORE THAN WAR

Estimated That Payments Above Normal Because of Epidemic Have Been $40,000,000

The influenza epidemic has cost insurance companies in this country $40,000,000 above normal expenditures in the last four weeks, according to an estimate made today by an official of a St. Louis company. The number of claims paid because of influenza are 10 times greater, he said, than those paid because of deaths resulting from the war.

The New York Life Insurance Co., in 23 days in October, paid $632,973 on 283 policies in Missouri, where death was caused by influenza. In the four and a half years of the war the company paid altogether but 333 war claims amounting to $51,175. The war claims represented several lives lost when the Lusitania was sunk.

An official of the New York Life Insurance Co., estimated that the temporary mortality rate is running 400 per cent above normal. Officers of the International Life Insurance Co., estimated that the percentage would be even higher. Of 91 influenza and war claims this company has paid, $5 resulted from the disease, while only six grew out of fatalities in the war. And in the latter class the claims run from Aug. 1, while the influenza claims run only from Oct. 1.

Insurance men, generally, say the influenza epidemic is the most fatal and most costly which has prevailed in this country in years, because it is not confined to any given locality as is the case with cholera and yellow fever epidemics.

Six out of every 10 claims paid by the Mutual Life Insurance Co., since Oct. 1, have been on policies held by persons who died of influenza. Missouri State Life Insurance Co. officers estimated the claims paid as a result of influenza deaths were four times greater than from war fatalities.

LABOR CONFERENCE WANTS NO REPRISALS IN WAR AFTERMATH

Pan-American Convention Says Nothing About Indemnities—Requests Universal 8-Hour Day

By the Associated Press.
LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 15.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, made known the program which organized labor in America wishes to be embraced in the international peace treaty. A resolution embracing five fundamental principles and seven secondary planks was introduced by Gompers before the Pan-American Labor Conference which was organized here. The resolution is being considered by the Resolution Committee, which will make its report today.

The labor peace plan declares against reprisals for the purpose of punishment, but makes mention of indemnities. Order would be secured by a league of free peoples of the world bonded together for justice and peace in relations between nations. The welfare of the people affected, the resolution declares, must be the sole factor in determining changes and adjustments in power.

An international eight-hour work day and an international child labor law are two of the results organized labor wishes to see come out of the war, the latter to be effected by denial of shipping facilities to goods manufactured by children under 16 years.

2532 AMERICANS ARE FREED FROM GERMAN PRISON CAMPS

Red Cross Reports That This Number Includes All Men Taken Up to Nov. 1.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 15.—More than 2532 American prisoners in German camps were released immediately by the signing of the German armistice, according to the latest figures prepared by the American Red Cross in Switzerland.

This number includes all the Americans captured to Nov. 1. It is estimated that only a few hundred more Americans were captured after that date.

BARUCH HAS NO FEARS FOR 'COMING BUSINESS STORMS'

"America Will Weather First Shock to Enjoy Era of Great Prosperity," He Predicts.

"DON'T BE PANICKY," IS PRESIDENT'S IDEA

War Industries Board to Promptly Allocate Capital and Material Involved When Canceling Contracts

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—"Don't be panicky." These are not the President's words, but they express a thought conveyed through his friends to the American people.

It is realized by the President and his advisers that the next few weeks will be an anxious time. But they are certain that the country will weather without difficulty whatever storms may arise, and that, after the first shock of readjustment from a war to a peace basis, the country will settle down to an era of great prosperity.

Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board, who is in closer touch with American business conditions than any other man in the country, makes this as a definite prediction.

Baruch said yesterday that there was "lots of business" ahead and he believed there would be plenty of employment. Many industries that have been marking time during the war, he pointed out, will now go ahead under full steam.

Labor will be needed for thousands of building projects that have been held up by the war, for the development and extension of railways, for the building of a greater merchant marine, for highway construction and for the satisfaction of the normal, every-day demands of the people that have been voluntarily curtailed during the war.

The War Industries Board and the Department of Labor are co-operating to reduce the shock of industrial readjustment to a minimum. Whenever a war contract is canceled, full information is given to the board in order that it may promptly allocate to new uses the material and capital involved. Likewise, the Department of Labor undertakes to prevent unemployment.

The whole aim of the administration is to get rid of restrictions as quickly and as smoothly as possible with regard to the welfare of the country as a whole and not any particular section of the country.

The Federal reserve act is pointed to as a stabilizing influence.

"With the best business brains of the country here, concentrating on the problem of readjustment," said an official of the administration today, "the country need have no fear of the future. After the first hurdle is crossed, the path will lie smooth ahead."

War-Time Service Agencies to Aid in Industrial Reorganization.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The War-time Service Committees named for more than 300 groups of interests to co-operate with Government agencies in putting the country's industry and trade on a war basis, are looked to now, officials say, to assist in the great task of industrial conversion to peace conditions. These committees now plan a federation into a few large industrial and commercial groups, which in turn will be federated into one unit. This will represent a larger proportion of business interests of all kinds than any organization now in existence.

The federation will be effected, according to present plans, at a conference of the War Service Committees at Atlantic City, Dec. 3, 4, 5 and 6, arranged under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

This conference will discuss many reconstruction questions, such as methods of canceling contracts, continuation of Government control, further stabilization of prices, means of working out better relations with labor, continuation of the conservation of materials and labor, needs for Government financial assistance during the conversion period, and absorption into business of returning soldiers.

At this conference also information will be gathered systematically on estimated needs for materials, labor and credit in the next year, stocks of materials on hand, outstanding financial obligations to the Government and similar subjects.

420,000 FRENCH PRISONERS OF WAR WILL BE SENT HOME SOON

Delegation From General Staff Completes Arrangements for Repatriation at German Headquarters in Spa.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—French war prisoners numbering about 420,000 will be repatriated soon. This number includes those who have been interned in neutral countries.

A delegation from the French General Staff has held a conference at German headquarters at Spa to arrange the details for bringing them home.

SERGEANT JOHN C. KUNTZ.

HARRY NELSON POTTER.

SERGEANT JOHN C. KUNTZ of K. Company, 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, killed in action Sept. 27, the second day of the Argonne battle, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kuntz of 4640 Labadie avenue.

Harry Nelson Potter of G Company, 138th, killed in the same battle, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Potter of Grand avenue and Wyoming street.

Frank H. Fleming of L Company, 138th, was killed Sept. 28 in the same battle, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Fleming of Doe Run, Mo.

WAR DEPARTMENT PLANS TO CANCEL CONTRACTS SLOWLY

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Munitions contracts for the army are to be canceled with utmost caution to safeguard the interests of both labor and capital. All bureaus of the War Department are making a careful survey of contracts and recommendations are being formulated to cover the industrial demobilization.

Officials said today that wherever a large number of workers would be thrown out of employment or a manufacturing plant be seriously embarrassed, cancellation clauses will not be invoked until the manufacturer has made arrangements for contracts.

Man and Woman Plead Guilty.

Jess Marlow and Anita Barnhardt, both of 906 North Compton avenue, charged jointly in the Federal Court with perjury and evading the draft in making false statements in Marlow's questionnaire, pleaded guilty yesterday in Judge Munger's court to the second count, charging draft evasion. The perjury count was dismissed. Sentence was deferred.

OFFICER REPORTED AS DEAD, IS BACK IN LINES

Lieut. E. W. Coleman's Family Notified of Error—St. Louisans in Today's Casualty List.

Lieut. Eugene W. Coleman of the Sixty-first Infantry, headquarters company and pioneer platoon, whose home is at 5018 Garfield avenue, and who was officially reported killed in action July 19, has returned to duty, according to a correction sent out by the War Department today, through the Associated Press.

The officer's father, Edward A. Coleman, and his wife, Mrs. Mildred Coleman of 5058 Garfield avenue, established to their satisfaction, some time ago, that the report of Lieut. Coleman's death was incorrect. He is 23 years old, and was formerly employed in the engineering department of the Pennsylvania Railroad here.

Herman E. Jeschke, 28, of G Company, died from pneumonia in France Aug. 2, according to a notification to his mother, Mrs. Amelia Jeschke of 201 Nellie avenue, Luxembourg, St. Louis County. He formerly conducted a dairy business, and was drafted last May. He had not been in action in France, so far as his letters showed.

Several Corporals Killed. Corp. Albert H. Ismert, 32, of L Company, 55th Infantry, died in France Aug. 2, according to a notification to his mother, Mrs. Joseph Ismert, 4146 Hartford street. He was drafted last May, and became ill on board a transport in July. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ismert, 4146 Hartford street. He was drafted last May, and became ill on board a transport in July. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ismert, 4146 Hartford street.

Corp. John Q. Whittle, 25, of F Company, 354th Infantry, was killed in action Oct. 3, according to a notification to his father, Patrick Whittle of 4525 St. Louis avenue. He was drafted in September, 1917. A letter lately received from him bore no date within, but was postmarked three days later than the date of his reported death.

Accident Kills Negro.

Marshall L. Parker, 21, a negro of the Eleventh Company, 302d Stevedore Regiment, is listed today as having died from accident in France. His wife, Mrs. Addie Parker of 2310 Walnut street, said she had received no official notification. She has moved several times since her husband's departure, the address given in the list being 2591 Montgomery street. Parker enlisted a year ago, and had two brothers in the army.

Conrad Kies Jr., 30, of the Red Cross medical department, died in France Oct. 5 from pneumonia, according to a notice received by his father, living at Birkner Station, near Belleville.

Charles W. Schaeffer, 30, of K Company, 119th Infantry, has been missing since Sept. 26, according to an official telegram received today by his mother, Mrs. Lulu Schaeffer of 11 East Elm street, Belleville. He was in the second draft contingent from Belleville.

Erl R. Lusk, 29, of C Company, 353d Infantry, was wounded severely in the head Sept. 13, and is today's list. He has written to his sister, Mrs. Maggie Beckwith of 4053 Lindell boulevard, that he was recovering. His parents are Dr. and Mrs.

Hindenburg Tells His Soldiers He Will Remain With Them

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Wednesday, Nov. 13, via Brussels, Nov. 14.

FIELD MARSHAL VON HINDENBURG has issued a proclamation to the German army, saying in substance: "The ever-growing number of our allies and the urgent crisis in the provisioning of our country have forced us to accept the hard conditions of the armistice. By the terms of the armistice we are obliged to rapidly return to the fatherland, which is a heavy task."

You will never be abandoned by your Field Marshal, he said. He will ever be confident in you."

W. H. Lusk of St. Charles. He was drafted last April, having been a pharmacist previously.

Albert A. Johnston, 30, of the Thirty-eighth Infantry, is listed as wounded, degree undetermined. The wound, in his hand, was received July 28, according to a letter to his sister, Mrs. Mamie Sommerfeld of 1614 South Fourteenth street. It was his second wound. He was employed by the Co. before he was drafted, in August, 1917. He was formerly in the regular army. A brother, Oscar Johnston, is in the Twelfth Engineers.

James O'Mara of E Company, 140th Infantry, has written from a base hospital to his mother, Mrs. Bryan O'Mara of 6152 Gambleton place, that he was wounded Sept. 28.

Nicholas Sauer Jr. of G Company, 188th, whose parents live at 914 South High street, Belleville, was wounded in action and sent to a hospital, his parents have been informed in a letter from a comrade.

Lieut. Elden Betts of the Machine Gun Company, 16th Infantry, was killed in action, according to information sent to his father, P. L. Betts, of Alton, by relatives who received a letter from Lieut. Thomas Gibson.

He wrote that the officer was killed while leading his men up a hill. He formerly worked for the Illinois Terminal Co. in Alton. His name previously appeared in the casualty reports by an error, but the family accepts the information now received as true.

Fred Glassbrenner of the 119th Infantry, formerly of Alton, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Glassbrenner, now live in Jacksonville, Fla., was killed in action by a machine gun bullet, according to a letter written by the lieutenant to his company. A few minutes before the officer wrote, he had been wounded in the leg, but he had continued to advance.

Charles N. Blevins of A Company, 147th Infantry, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Blevins of 3719 State street, East St. Louis, has written that he was wounded in one ankle by a machine gun bullet.

Corp. Bain E. Montgomery, 28, of the Machine Gun Company, 132d Infantry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Montgomery of 1332 1/2 North Thirtieth street, East St. Louis, is in a hospital in France, according to a letter written to the parents by a comrade, who said Montgomery was to undergo an operation. This causes the parents to believe that he has been wounded.

WILSON-TO-EUROPE TALK A "FEELER" TO PEOPLE

President Not Likely to Go Abroad Without Indorsement of the Country.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—There has been no letup in speculation here as to whether President Wilson will attend the peace conference. If the President has made up his mind, which is unlikely, he has told no one his decision. The suggestion that he might attend the conference, which came from and has been supported by persons in close touch with the President, was undoubtedly put out as a "feeler" to test the sentiment of the country. It is too early yet to say what the reaction of the country has been.

Opinion here is divided as to the wisdom of the President leaving the country for a brief period. Some officials hold that, on the ground of personal danger alone, the President should not make the trip. The risk on the ocean would be negligible, but in Europe, it is argued, the present unsettled conditions would augment the ordinary danger that the ruler of a nation inevitably faces in a crowd. And Europe most certainly would not be content to let the President return without arranging triumphant demonstrations in his honor.

A milder objection is that such a trip has no precedent in American history, but this is not likely to have much weight with a people whose chief business during the last year and a half has been the setting up of new precedents.

It is further argued that the course of legislation might be hampered by his absence, owing to the constitutional provision that every bill passed by Congress must be submitted to the President, and that, if he does not veto the bill in 10 days after it is presented to him, it shall become a law. The President has no power to delegate this authority.

Doubtless the President's friends took this objection into consideration and discounted it before the "feeler" was put out.

No time limit is specified within which a bill must be presented to the President. If necessary, a bill could be taken across to the President, approved or vetoed by him, and returned within the 10 days after presentation.

Matter of Speculation.

All this discussion is predicated on the assumption that the President will go during the term of Congress which ends March 3. It is by no means certain that he will go then. The first suggestion was that the President should, if possible, attend the opening sessions, and it has been suggested that the conference would not get under way by January.

The President, however, may wait till after March 3, when no possible legislative difficulties could arise. The whole question of the President's going, like all other matters in relation to the conference, is still in the field of speculation. Probably he will let the country decide for him.

Last Days in the War of 89th Division, Including St. Louis Drafted Men

News of Armistice, Obtained From Intercepted German Radiogram, Was Celebrated by Firing of Rifles—Details of 89th's Last Advance.

WITH THE EIGHTY-NINTH DIVISION IN FRANCE, Nov. 11 (delayed).—That the Germans had accepted all armistice terms was known in the intelligence section of the Eighty-ninth Division at 9 o'clock last night. Information was picked up from a German radiogram and was translated at that hour, but those who knew were sworn to absolute secrecy until the official announcement.

We were sitting in the division intelligence office last night, receiving word of the progress the division was making in the battle which had been raging three hours.

Capt. Ingram Hook, a Kansas City officer formerly with the 35th Infantry, later an instructor in the third officers' training camp at Camp Funston, now an operations officer of the division, was there; also Maj. Frank Wilbur Smith, an assistant Chief of Staff.

Our division was covering the west bank of the river from Letanne to a point west of Tally—and they were making good.

A German Radiogram Intercepted. An orderly from headquarters walked into the room where we sat. He had a copy of a German radiogram intercepted, in the original German tongue and code.

Translated, it read: "Accepted all armistice terms." Everybody yelled. Joy was supreme, although it was hard to believe what we saw.

We told the artillery headquarters of the intercepted radiogram saying the armistice was signed. The commanding officer said: "Continue firing until the targets supplied are finished."

At 9 o'clock this morning the targets supplied had been finished, and new aims were sent to the artillery, the firing continuing.

A message came from headquarters: "Stop firing at 11 o'clock. Keep eyes open and watch enemy. Do not fraternize with him." It read.

The shell-torn buildings rang with cheers.

"War's over. Peace has come." That was the cry of thousands of war-weary men as they raced madly about to spread the great news.

That was back in the section held by the artillery and by the division headquarters.

Men Doubtful at First. With three other correspondents, I jumped into a motor car to race to the front to witness the cessation of the great war.

We stopped a truck train filled with shells and told the men.

They did not believe us and looked at us with suspicion, as though fearing we might be traitors or tricksters. One could scarcely blame them, however, for guns were pounding away everywhere, and as far as could be seen there was no evidence of the approaching end of the war.

"I've passed a company of doughboys, with full packs, hiking through the mud. They were going to relieve fighting troops."

"The war is over," I shouted to them.

Their only reply was astonished queries as to what I was talking about.

"An armistice has been signed and all fighting will stop," I continued.

"What time does that peace begin?" one asked me. It was then 10 o'clock.

"Eleven o'clock," I answered, and there was a hasty glancing at watches.

Thousands of St. Louis Men in 89th Division

THERE are several thousand St. Louisans in the Eighty-ninth Division, which is composed of selective service men from Missouri, Kansas and Colorado. One of its units, the 35th Infantry, is composed almost entirely of St. Louisans.

Those men in the early draft calls from this city are nearly all in some unit of the division, which was trained at Camp Funston under Major-General Leonard Wood.

Rifles Fired in Celebration.

They cheered and then they were sober. "There's an hour yet," a Sergeant yelled. "Come on, let's hurry. Away they went on their hike, evidently trying to get to the front before it was too late."

We met an ambulance filled with wounded men. Leaning near, I yelled the good news.

"Cut the comedy," was the response. More doughboys and again we told the story.

"Take my gun," one answered, and shoved it at me. "I don't want the thing any more."

Another bunch threw their helmets away and danced and sang.

We passed a number of Nebraska men and when we told them the pointed rifles into the air and made the ears ache with the roar of their celebration fire.

Seven Divisions Failed to Stop Eighty-Ninth in Its Advance. On Meuse.

This story of the 89th's last advance was filed shortly before the conclusion of the drive and gained widespread interest. It is not believed, however, that any considerable number of men were killed.

LAST DAYS IN WAR OF 89TH DIVISION INCLUDING ST. LOUISANS

able advance was made after this dispatch was filed, as indicated by the outline of the battle line show the American front was extended only slightly northwest of Meuse, about five miles beyond the point to which the line is carried in this article.

Official announcement has been made by Gen. March that the artillery, originally a part of the 89th Division, has been with the 5th Division, operating in Flanders, and it is not known what artillery units have been attached to the 89th Division.

WITH THE EIGHTY-NINTH DIVISION IN FRANCE, Nov. 3 (delayed).—Seven different enemy divisions opposed the Eighty-ninth Division in vain efforts to stop the Camp Funston troops in the first five days of their last offensive, along the Meuse River.

Prisoners from that many divisions were captured in the advance and were identified.

Prisoners numbering 1759, including 15 officers, were taken in those five days.

Boots included 59 cannons, 335 machine guns, a wagon train, a truck train and a large amount of ammunition.

Complete details are now released by the censor, showing the progress of the Eighty-ninth Division in its last drive and the towns and villages freed by this division.

The Eighty-ninth's last drive started in the territory between Genesee and Clerges, first clearing out the Genesee Woods, which was filled with machine guns for rear-guard actions by the enemy.

Romagne was captured next and the Romagne Woods cleared out as the division advanced to the north.

A battalion of troops from St. Joseph, Mo., and that vicinity was given the task of clearing out the Bantheville Woods. The men did it, and did it in a hurry. Remonville was taken next, followed in close succession by a number of towns and villages as the division swung off toward the Meuse River, continuing its advance in a general north direction.

Towns captured included Barri-court, Tully, Nourat, Lechampsy, Basle, Champy, Beaulair, Halles, Beaufort, Laneville, Cesse, Luzu and Letanne.

Original plans of the division were for a drive straight to the north from the starting point, Genesee and Clerges. Such a movement would have brought them to the Meuse River at Letanne.

Their advance was so rapid, however, that the enemy changed and the division swung toward the east, coming in contact with the Meuse River at Laneville. From that city to Letanne they cleared the west bank of the river up to Letanne.

The river was at flood stage, and all bridges were destroyed, so no effort was made to cross with troops.

Patrols, however, spent much time on the east bank of the river investigating the enemy's strength and systems of defense.

Maj. Mark Hannah, a Kansas City man, commanding a battalion of Western Missouri troops, made a bold patrol visit into Pouilly in the fourth day of the drive.

Pouilly is on the east bank of the Meuse and was not captured. Maj. Hannah's troops were on the west bank of the river, across from Pouilly. Bridges had been destroyed, but girders were left standing.

Maj. Hannah, accompanied by his orderly, crawled across the girders, a distance of a hundred yards. He stationed the orderly at the east end of the bridge to cover a retreat and walked boldly into the town.

Maj. Hannah stood on a busy street corner in Pouilly, smoking cigarettes, while French civilians and boche soldiers passed by in great numbers. By the audacity of his performance he was not suspected and made a safe return, bringing with him valuable information as to the enemy's strength and activities.

In the clearing of the Bantheville Woods, done by the St. Joseph and Western Missouri battalions, as related previously, there was work done which brought the commendation of the First Army commander, as well as lesser commanding officers. The army commander sent this letter:

"Army commander directs you to convey to the commanding general, officers and men of the 89th Division his appreciation of their persistent and successful efforts in clearing the Bantheville Woods of the enemy."

The following indorsement was added by the corps commander:

"In transmitting the inclosed letter to you, your officers and enlisted men, the corps commander desires to add his commendation to that of the army commander and to congratulate you on the morale and spirit of your division as shown by its recent work."

The division commander added his commendation to other letters of praise, and all were distributed to the men of the division.

Barrage Demoralized.

According to the story told by captured prisoners, the original barrage was extremely heavy and demoralizing. Our infantry followed so closely upon the heels of the barrage the boche had no time to reorganize to meet the infantry, after they had taken cover to avoid the Further demoralization of the enemy resulted from their retreat being so rapid they went back into their own barrage, according to the tale related by captured prisoners.

At times their retreat was so rapid the infantry of the 89th could not overtake them, making it necessary continuously to send out patrols to keep in contact with the enemy.

Our artillery was the first to concentrate fire on the Sedan-Metz Railroad.

MANLEY O. HUDSON TO EUROPE TO HELP PLAN PEACE PARLEY

Missouri U. Law Professor to Be Legal Adviser in Corps at Disposal of American Conference.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Manley O. Hudson, professor of law at the University of Missouri, who has recently been doing special work for the State Department, has sailed for Europe to assist in preparations for the peace conference and to act as a legal adviser to the American delegation. Hudson will be one of a corps of legal, scientific and economic experts at the disposal of the American conference.

For the last eight years Hudson has been professor of law at the university. He is only 32 years old. He was born at Montgomery City, Mo., and was graduated from William Jewell College and the Harvard Law School. After he began teaching at Columbia he took the Missouri State bar examinations. He has specialized in international law. In 1913 he helped to organize the Fourth American Peace Congress in St. Louis.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Make

YOU know what war has done to clothes prices; made them higher just as it has everything else

The coming of peace isn't going to affect prices for a long, long time either; the demands for all materials for reconstruction times will be even heavier than for war times

Nevertheless, regardless of conditions, we're offering Hart Schaffner & Marx suits and overcoats at $35 that are worth a great deal more than that

Why? Because we bought early; because we anticipated your needs—and because we're willing to sell on prices based on what we paid for the goods—not on present market conditions

It's a wonderful opportunity for St. Louis men to get the clothes they need—better do something about it early

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

Statement From Washington University Concerning Students in Military Section of Institution:

Prof. A. S. Langsdorf, dean of the School of Engineering of Washington University and business director of the Students' Army Training Corps at that institution, yesterday made the following statement to refute baseless rumors given publicity through some of the newspapers concerning conditions surrounding students in the military section of the university:

"Men in the military section of the university are quartered in Tower and Liggett halls and Francis Gymnasium, all permanent, fireproof and thoroughly sanitary buildings, and in a barracks especially constructed for the overflow numbers, of wood but so designed as to meet Government requirements of a minimum of 45 feet of floor space for each man. The general arrangement of these barracks buildings has been made to conform to standard plans of regular army cantonments, but in details of construction they are much superior to the type of buildings at the Great Lakes and Fort Sheridan, which I have seen. All of our wooden barracks have an outside wall of standard drop siding, and overlay of tarred paper and inside lining of paper and shiplap, with 4-inch air space between. The whole plan of the university for caring for the men is such that Maj. Sprague, from the office of the surgeon-general of the army, who carefully inspected it on Monday, declared that of all the schools visited by him there were but two where the new construction, in scope and arrangement, showed evidence of proper headwork in planning and one of these is Washington University. He further stated that our mess hall was by far the best seen anywhere. Barracks floors are double, and each of the buildings is heated by three hot-air furnaces with a guaranteed heating capacity of 50 per cent in excess of actual cubical contents of the building.

"The mess hall, with a seating capacity of 1300, has saw-tooth roof with open-facing the south, in order that the building may be flooded with light. It has four hot-air furnaces and gas-heated serving tables so arranged as to keep food warm during service hours. The kitchen, located in Tower Hall, is connected with the mess hall by a covered passage, and is equipped with thoroughly modern appliances, including two large-capacity refrigerators and dish-washing machines with live steam connection and every precaution to insure absolutely sanitary preparation and serving of the food.

"In connection with the barracks buildings there has been constructed a latrine building equipped with toilet facilities, showers, baths, etc., in full conformity with government specifications. This building, which has concrete floors, is heated by cast-iron cannon stoves, and, with other buildings, is electrically lighted.

"Each man is provided with an army cot and three blankets, but all this equipment is provided by the War Department and is entirely outside control of the university officials."

BEAUTY HINTS FOR YOUR HAIR

How to Prevent It From Growing Gray

There is no occasion for you to look unattractive or prematurely old because of gray, streaked with gray, white or faded hair. Don't let this condition with its look of age rob you of your youthful beauty and the wonderful opportunities which life offers. No matter how gray, prematurely gray, lusterless or faded your hair might be, "La Creole" Hair Dressing will revive the color glands of nature—promote a healthy condition of the hair and scalp—and cause all of your gray or faded hair to become evenly dark, soft, lustrous and beautiful. This preparation is not a dye, but an elegant toilet requisite which is easily applied by simply combing or brushing through the hair.

USE "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING to prevent your hair from growing gray and to restore a beautiful dark color to gray or faded hair. For sale by Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores, Judge & Dolph Drug Stores, and all good drug stores everywhere. Orders from out-of-town customers filed promptly upon receipt of regular price, $1.25.—ADVERTISEMENT.

ELECTION TO TAKE FORM AROUND LLOYD GEORGE

Issue to Be Proposal to Indorse His Government—British Politics in Chaotic Condition.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 15.—The issue in coming elections is whether the country will indorse Lloyd George's proposal that the present coalition Government, with himself as Premier, shall be continued after the war for the work of making peace and carrying on the labor of reconstruction.

Never before were British political conditions as chaotic as they are today. War has shattered old party lines. The electoral reform bill adopted by Parliament during the summer of 1917 virtually doubled the number of voters. It gave the ballot to all women over 30, men of 21 and soldiers under 21. This added 6,000,000 females and 2,000,000 males to the voting lists. How the women will vote and what party the soldiers will support none can predict.

The electoral reform bill adopted by Parliament during the summer of 1917 virtually doubled the number of voters. It gave the ballot to all women over 30, men of 21 and soldiers under 21. This added 6,000,000 females and 2,000,000 males to the voting lists. How the women will vote and what party the soldiers will support none can predict.

Life of Commons Has Expired. The prospect of plunging the country into excitement and expense of an election at such a time as the present has excited strong opposition. On the other hand, the legal life of the present House of Commons expired three days ago, and it has extended its own tenure of office from term to term by resolutions. This has been an informal proceeding which would have been impossible except that it had the indorsement of public opinion because no one wanted an election during the great war.

As the new voters will be entitled to take part in choosing the Government, Lloyd George has before him the difficult task of trying to keep together that majority of the Conservative party which supported the war measures and enough Liberals to give him a balance of power. The decisive factor will be how many Liberals will follow him and what policy the Labor party will adopt.

Liberal Split Possible. Herbert H. Asquith remains official leader of the Liberal party, while Lloyd George is a free lance, without any party organization or party funds behind him. He wishes to continue the political truce which all parties declared at the beginning of the war, and trusts to the slogan that "he is the leader who won the war" to attract votes.

The program of his voters is apparently to nominate Lloyd George Liberals in all districts where the regular Liberal candidates will not indorse the Premier's platform. If this is carried out, it means a split in the Liberal party, which will have to decide whether the Lloyd Georgeians or the Asquithians control it. How many candidates the Labor party will nominate and how many votes it will muster is an uncertain element.

Prospect in Ireland. So far as Ireland is concerned, the election probably means the almost total disappearance of the old Nationalist party of Redmond and Dillon from Westminster. The Sinn Féiners are expected to sweep southern Ireland, but the members elected by the Sinn Féin always refuse to take their seats.

In addition to trying to hold together his Conservative and Liberal supporters, Lloyd George is trying to reconcile the Asquith faction. Asquith could have had a high seat in the present Cabinet if he would have accepted it. There were two obstacles, however, home rule and protection. One of these the Conservatives will not have and the other is objected to by the Liberals.

Premier Addresses Liberals. Lloyd George addressed a large group of Liberal members from both houses of Parliament on Tuesday. Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, also presented the coalition program at a meeting of Conservatives. This program is said to include "safeguarding" agriculture and essential manufactures, imperial preference and home rule without coercion of the six counties of Ulster.

Election Dec. 14. A proclamation will be issued Nov. 25, summoning a new Parliament. Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer and Government spokesman, announced in the House of Commons today. Nominations will be made Dec. 4 and polling will take place Dec. 14. The date for counting of the ballots will depend on a bill now before Parliament. If this bill passes without amendment counting can be postponed until Dec. 28.

The general elections appointed for Dec. 14 for the United Kingdom will be held under radically different conditions from those held in December, 1910, which, with subsequent bye-elections, gave the nation the Parliament that has carried it through the war. On the eve of the elections the alignment of the parties is about as follows:

Complexion of Parliament. Liberals, 261; Unionists, 285; Nationalists, 76; Laborites, 39; Independent Nationalists, 8; Independent, 1.

The elections of 1910 gave a tie between the Liberals and Unionists of 273 each, which the former, by the adhesion of the minor parties, turned into a majority. During the war the opposition has, through bye elections, increased its number of seats to 285, while the Liberals have lost 11. The new conditions are due to the representation of the People's Act of 1918. Prior to that act about 8,000,000 males were qualified to vote. Now about 10,000,000 men and 6,000,000 women are so qualified, and the number of seats has been raised from 670 to 707 in the House of Commons.

EBERT DESCRIBED AS A SADDLER AND GOOD COUNSELLOR

"One of Most Forceful Personalities in Democracy," Says Former London Correspondent at Berlin.

"REAL LEADER IN CRISIS IN GERMANY"

"Won Spurs Before War by Successfully Conducting Stormy Congress of Party, Pleasing All Factions."

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch: (Copyright, 1918.) LONDON, Nov. 15.—Chancellor Ebert is the man of the hour in Germany, according to Frederick Wille, who for many years was a newspaper correspondent at Berlin.

"The Kaiser has made way for a saddler," Wille says. "Ebert, now Socialist leader and Chancellor, is a harness maker by trade. He is one of the most forceful personalities in the German Social Democracy."

"Although identified from the outset of the war with the pro-war wing of Socialism, he was at no time such a sycophantic tool of the Hohenzollern militarists as was Philipp Scheidemann, the Socialist official chief, who accepted the imperial office a month ago under the Imperial Government of Prince Maximilian, the Kaiser's Chancellor."

"In the events of the past week Ebert, and not Scheidemann, has been the prominent figure in affairs. During the dramatic crisis which Germany has now experienced, he has taken issue with the tamer branch of his party and has stood out as the real leader."

Won Spurs Before War. "Shortly he may become president of the first German republic. He is 47 and a Prussian. Although sturdy and assertive in politics, he has revealed qualities of moderation which will stand for wise counsel and efficient service at this time."

"He is short of stature with bushy hair, full eyebrows and a heavy, dark mustache. His complexion is uncommonly dark, easily passes for an Italian or a Spaniard. He is decidedly a man of action, as distinguished from Scheidemann."

"He won his spurs as a Socialist leader at Chemnitz, at the party congress, a year or two before the war. As is usual in such occasions, the proceedings were stormy, but Ebert conducted them with consummate skill and firmness, accomplishing the miracle of pleasing both the radical and moderate factions. Ever afterward he enjoyed great influence among the organized workers of the fatherland."

"It should say unhesitatingly that the German proletariat had made the best possible choice in placing Ebert in a position in which he will succeed the autocratic regime whose fall with kaleidoscopic suddenness was finally accomplished at the behest of the working classes."

Opposed "Peace of Hardship." "His last public utterance was made in the Reichstag at the end of October, during the discussion of Prince Maximilian's second note to President Wilson. On that occasion he indicated his bitter opposition to any kind of peace that would inflict economic hardships upon the German people."

"If President Wilson wishes a permanent peace," he said, "let him disavow the clamor of those who would place their heels on the neck of a defeated foe. Let him listen to Arthur Henderson, the British labor leader, and his friends, who do not wish the application of this sort of force. Whatever may happen, we of Central Europe will always remain a populous and an important nation. If our enemies wish to remain our foes, let them turn us into wage slaves; but they should beware of this slavery, for one day it will come to an end. If they wish to be our friends, all the better for them. Come what may, we will have faith in our own people. We shall still have our brains and our muscles."

"Ebert's phrase, 'we of Central Europe,' in the above quotation may well have been intended as a hint of the amalgamation of Germany and German Austria, which would bring together a total of from 75,000,000 to 80,000,000 people and a territory that would be a formidable bloc in the heart of Continental Europe."

TWO INDICTED ON CHARGE OF CONDUCTING A LOTTERY

Robert Olsen, Former Smoke Inspector, One of Those Accused of Running "Clearing House" Game.

The grand jury today returned indictments charging Robert Olsen of 214 Madison street, and George R. Heidemann, 3707 Olive street, with conducting the "clearing house lottery," which is alleged to have been in operation here several years. Olsen was a city smoke inspector up to his arrest, Tuesday. The lottery, it is charged, is based upon figures in the daily records of the St. Louis Clearing House.

Men's Clothing Shop—Second Floor

You do not take a single chance in buying a Vandervoort player; because you know from whom you are buying it.

WE told you in yesterday's ad of the merit of these Vandervoort Player-Pianos. We also printed all the little details of the sale, such as the terms, privileges, conditions, etc.

But all these things interest you ONLY up to a certain point. Today we tell you about some of the exclusive features of this remarkable instrument.

It has an automatic tracking device, a transposer, which will change the key to suit the voice of a singer, an automatic sustaining pedal and many other patented features, which make the Vandervoort Player substantially the equal of almost any Player in the world today, no matter what the price—we recommend and guarantee it for five years, and this can be taken as the supreme proof of our confidence in these Vandervoort Players that we are selling at such a greatly reduced price.

How you can obtain one of these Vandervoort Player-Pianos.

To take advantage of this unusual sale, all you have to do is to send or bring in twenty-five dollars, for which we will at once give you a receipt.

This twenty-five dollars is credited to your account, leaving four hundred and seventy-three dollars to be paid.

The plan then allows you thirty-nine months' time in which to pay this amount—at the rate of $12.00 per month.

You can select your Player now or at any time within the next few days. The date of delivery is wholly optional with you.

We know the value of Vandervoort Players. We know their merits. We know that they WILL RETAIN THEIR QUALITIES for ten, twelve and fifteen years, and we consider that our guarantee is the best evidence on our part of the faith we have in our proposition.

You have heard a great deal about the supremacy of the Vandervoort Music Salons.

During the past year we have placed pianos in the Statler Hotel, Missouri Athletic Association, Junior High School, Washington University, Lincoln Institute, Principia Academy and other educational institutions where the best is required. Here, during the sale, being conducted in spite of the curtailed production of pianos, we are furnishing concrete evidence that you can do better by buying your piano or player-piano at Vandervoort's—the world's leading pianos are to be found in our Music Salons and they are all sold at prices which prove without question our superior ability as merchandisers of musical instruments.

First: you get a Vandervoort Player, which sells regularly for a large sum of money, for four hundred and ninety-eight dollars, saving you at least almost a hundred dollars.

Second: Instead of paying seventy-five dollars as a first payment and twenty or thirty dollars a month, as you will in a regular way, during this sale you pay but twenty-five dollars, and then BUT twelve dollars monthly.

Third: You get as strong a guarantee as was ever given upon a piano; a guarantee signed by ourselves, giving you protection for five years that is as strong as a Government bond.

Fourth: You get, absolutely free of charge, a beautiful duet bench and $12.00 worth of music rolls of your own selection.

Fifth: All payments remaining unpaid are voluntarily canceled in event of your death—thus leaving the piano to your family free of all encumbrances.

FAMILY CONFERENCE STOPS CHAMPION SANITY HEARING

Counsel for Sister-in-Law of Webster
Groves Man Asks Jury to Find for Him.

When the hearing into the sanity of A. Burt Champion of Webster Groves was about to be resumed in Probate Court today, Mrs. Gladys Stevenson Champion, her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Strelinger, complainant, and Champion, with the opposing attorneys, held a conference, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Strelinger's attorney asked the jury to return a verdict that Champion was of sound mind. The jury did so.

It was said that agreement also had been made that any hearings in the litigation of Champion and his former wife over the custody of their son, Burtleigh, 8 years old, would be in private.

Accusation by Mrs. Strelinger that Champion was insane was made after Champion had called her a "liar" while she was on the witness stand in the litigation between Champion and his former wife.

BARUCH SUGGESTS PERMANENT INDUSTRIAL STANDARDIZATION

Chairman of War Industries Board
Says Material, Money and Labor
Would Be Saved and Prices
Lowered.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Permanent direction of standardization and conservation of materials under Government agency was suggested today by Chairman Baruch of the War Industries Board. He indicated that the Department of Commerce or the Federal Trade Commission could carry out the proposal most effectively.

Properly conceived, Baruch said, a policy of industrial conservation and standardization in time of peace would save materials, money and labor and increase production. Standardization of types, he said, would lessen cost of production and consequently result in lower prices.

MAN SOUGHT IN KILLING CASE

Theory Is That Saloon Keeper Was Slain for Revenge.

The police today received information which led them to believe that the shooting and killing of Albert Chandler, in his saloon, at 1935 North Broadway, Wednesday night, may have been due to revenge and not a robbery plot, as at first suspected.

In this connection they are looking for a man who is known to have had a fight with Chandler in the saloon about two weeks ago and who has not been at his home since the shooting.

The man under suspicion is said to have been knocked down by Chandler and later to have told two friends that he would "get" the saloon keeper.

No Contrary Instructions.

Local draft boards have announced that registrants who have received, or will receive, questionnaires, and who fail to fill out and return them, or who fail to appear for physical examination, will be placed on the delinquent list and reported to the police.

Dispatches from Washington had stated that questionnaires might be returned blank, but no such instructions have been received yet by the boards.

The Man Who Is Looking for Winter

Suits and Overcoats

Should Take Full Advantage of This Occasion
—it is one of rare merit.

MEN who have been somewhat uncertain as to their future, because of the turn of world events, and who now are ready to get down to business will read of this opportunity with a feeling of delight:

WE purchased the entire surplus stock of Charles D. Jaffee & Co., 906-920 Broadway, New York.

This is indeed a lucky stroke for the man who has delayed the purchase of a Suit or Overcoat—or both—for we made a decided saving in our purchase and in accord with our usual policy our patrons will share the same great proportionate saving.

Two price groups have been made of the purchase:

Lot 1 $21.00

Lot 2 $26.50

IF you require a good looking Suit it can be selected from either one of these price groups—or if you are looking for one of those smart Overcoats, such as good dressers are wearing, the selection is ample in both the $21.00 group and the $26.50 lot.

THE styles are up to the minute, the fabrics consisting of all the high-class woolen weaves so popular in men's-wear.

And one of the best points of this story, is the fact that men of every size can be fitted.

SCHOOL BOARD DIVIDES ON PAY FOR TEACHERS

Whether All or Part Shall Get
Increases to Be Discussed
Again Next Tuesday.

The question of increased salaries for teachers in the public schools and its bearing upon the present high standard of efficiency in the educational system of St. Louis will form the basis of discussion at next Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Education, when two proposed schedules of new salaries will be submitted for the board's consideration.

Superintendent of Instruction Withers, supported by several members of the board, will insist upon the adoption of a schedule arranged by himself, providing for increased salaries for the entire teaching corps.

A faction of the board, headed by Frank X. Hiemenz, will introduce another schedule differing from that of Dr. Withers, in that it will provide increases for only those members of the teaching corps now receiving less than $3150 a year. This schedule, if adopted, would eliminate the present superintendent's plan, the principal of the Harris Teachers' College and the principals of the high schools.

Increases recommended by Dr. Withers would add $339,791 to the annual payroll of the Department of Instruction; the increases recommended by the Hiemenz faction would add $491,791 to the payroll, or $48,553 less than the amount called for by the Superintendent of Instruction.

Positions of Factions.
The Hiemenz faction declares that it is inspired solely by a spirit of just economy. It contends that the instructions now receiving $3150 a year or more are not in need of financial relief.

Dr. Withers holds the opposite view. He says that the organization of the public school system depends upon the efficiency of the heads of the various branches of the Department of Instruction, and that to maintain that efficiency his high ranking assistants must be paid more money. The increased cost of living, he says, has made it necessary for those in their profession to have increased incomes, as well as the teachers in the schoolrooms.

The fact that, owing to war conditions, other fields more remunerative are open to school teachers, Dr. Withers says, makes it imperative that all members of the St. Louis teaching corps should be granted salary increases.

He points out that a bill has been introduced in Congress providing for a National Department of Education, with a Secretary of Education in the President's Cabinet, and appropriating $100,000,000 for the promotion of elementary and high school education throughout the United States. The bill has the sanction of the President and is backed by every national educational organization in the country.

The public school system of St. Louis, according to the last educational survey, stands at the head of this branch of education in the United States. Dr. Withers believes that to impair the morale of the local organization by virtually telling the heads of it that "they are getting all the money they are worth," would bring about a crisis in the system that would not be encouraging to the educators of the nation who are promoting the measure in Congress to improve the public schools of the entire country.

Poor Economy, He Says.
Dr. Withers believes he should be permitted to exercise his prerogative as head of the Department of Instruction in regulating the salaries of his assistants. He says he thinks he is more qualified as an expert to pass judgment on that question than the business men in the Board of Education who, although they may be working conscientiously in the interest of economy, are failing to grasp the real problem of the situation. The mere saving of about $41,000 a year, Dr. Withers says, is not to be compared with the danger of losing the efficiency on which the standard of St. Louis education depends.

The question will be threshed out at next Tuesday's meeting of the board, when Dr. Withers will take the floor and ask the board to adopt his recommendations. Members of the Hiemenz faction say they will continue to support their own recommendations.

ORPHEUM IN FULL SWING AGAIN AFTER CLOSING ORDER

Leon Errol Again on the Program
With Act That Pleases
the Audience.

Reopening in the middle of the week after five weeks' observance of the influenza ban, the Orpheum Theater Wednesday presented an aggregation of hastily collected talent, which was acceptable in the sense that anything tastes good after a long fast.

Leon Errol, whose engagement was cut short when the closing order went into effect, Oct. 7, found his way back to the program. In his presentation of the "drunk" scene from Hitty-Koo he was as convincing as if he had celebrated the signing of the armistice Monday and had found a place open.

Marie Nordstrom, billed for some reason as "Marie Nordstrom & Co.," is a monoglot impersonator of considerable talent and a sunny disposition. George Yeoman is a rapid-fire solo talker who gets many laughs.

Others on the bill are Henry B. Tegner and a "company" of one in a sketch; Trovato and his talking violin; Rives and Arnold in song and dance; two accordion players; and a troop of tight-rope cavers. Motion pictures of Zion Canyon, Utah, are shown.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—ADV.

THE BOTTLE THAT HOLDS THE WORLD'S GREATEST REMEDY

The Most Powerful Tonic Known for Building Up Weak, Run-Down Systems Caused by Grippe, Etc.

If you are now suffering with any diseases at all of blood, stomach or Spanish influenza, you need this great remedy of nature itself. It builds up tired, worn-out people, rejuvenates sick stomachs, relieves kidneys that are overworked and sick—in fact, you cannot find a remedy that will do you as much good as Acid Iron Mineral.

Thousands of genuine testimonials that came to us unsolicited tell how sick people have been made entirely well by A-I-M. In the majority of letters the writers are glad to have us use their names so that others who are suffering may be helped to health and happiness as they have been.

Do not think that Acid Iron Mineral is a patented medicine, because it is not—it's a remedy supplied by nature herself, and it is free from alcohol or other harmful drugs.

(A-I-M is splendid for a nasal spray and gargle, prevents influenza.) Don't delay, call for it today.

BREW THIS TEA FOR BILIOUSNESS

Costs next to nothing, yet keeps bowels in fine order and ends constipation.

The head of every family that values its health should always have in the house a package of Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea.

Then when any member of the family needs something for a sluggish liver, sick headache, or to promptly regulate the bowels, simply brew a cup and drink it just before bedtime.

It's an old remedy, is Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea, and has been used for years by thousands of families, who get such good results from its use that they have no desire to take anything else.

Give it to the children freely—they like it, and it will do them good.—ADV.

A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.

City News in Brief

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CHARLES ZUEBLIN, REPRESENTING the United States Department of Labor, will speak at the City Club luncheon, tomorrow.

RABBI LEON HARRISON, PASTOR OF Temple Israel, has returned from a trip through the South in the interest of the United War Work campaign. He found the people of the South enthusiastic in support of the United War Work campaign. A victory and peace service will be celebrated tonight at Temple Israel. Rabbi Harrison's subject will be "The Kind of Peace We Have Been Fighting For."

NEXT SUNDAY HAS BEEN PROCLAIMED a day of thanksgiving, prayer and praise in University City by the Mayor, August Heuman, in recognition of the signing of the armistice. The Mayor urged all the residents to attend church services.

THE "NEW ERA MOVEMENT" OF THE Presbyterian Church, launched by it at last Presbyterian general assembly to meet the war emergency confronting the church, its immediate responsibilities, will be discussed at a dinner to be held at Hotel Statler next Friday evening. Robert Johnston will be chairman. Other speakers will be the Rev. W. B. Kind, the Rev. William H. Poulson, general secretary, the Rev. Elmer A. Woodruff, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. J. M. Skilling.

CHARLES ZUEBLIN WILL ADDRESS the Ethical Society Sunday morning on "The Reorganization of the World." There will be opening Peace Exercises, including Community Songs, in which the older children will lead. Peace will also be the theme of the Children's Sunday Assembly, at which the leader of the society, Percival Chubb, will make an address.

CAPT. F. L. BEALE, COMMANDING OFFICER of the new Camp Pershing, will speak at the luncheon to be held at the University Club Grand and Washington avenues, at 12:30 p. m. Nov. 16. He will speak about the camp of which he is commander.

POLICE ITEMS

BURGLARS WHO ROBBED THE WAREHOUSE of the Sun Eastern Liquor Co., 128 Clark avenue, last night, loaded $600 worth of whiskey onto a truck belonging to Brown and carried it away. The truck was valued at $1000. The dry goods store of M. Brown, 1015 North Third street, was robbed last night of overcoats, shoes and raincoats valued at $200.

MISS OLIVE WILSON, 1730 NEBRASKA avenue, reported the theft of a purse containing $55, which she said disappeared while she was eating lunch yesterday in a cafe at 2500 Olive street.

DAVID FRANKLIN, A NEGRO, 37 years old, 4123 Fairfax avenue, died at the city hospital at 10 a. m. today after being shot twice by his wife, Mrs. Maggie Franklin, in their home at 8 a. m. The wife, when arrested, said she shot her husband when he abused her by beating her. She was not ready.

A woman who told the police she was Mrs. Waldo P. Hines, 3200 Franklin avenue, wife of the former Sheriff of St. Charles and now proprietor of a saloon at the Franklin avenue address, was arrested last night at Twenty-third street and Franklin avenue in her car. The police found a fully loaded revolver. She declined to tell why she had it.

MISCELLANEOUS

GEORGE GREEN, 68 YEARS OLD, OF 5015 Olive street, a watchman employed at the Carleton Building, Sixth and Olive streets, was killed instantly yesterday when caught between an elevator cage and the flooring on the tenth floor of the building. His body fell on top of the cage and was carried down to the first floor before the accident was discovered.

GEORGE C. STIKES, FORMER DIRECTOR of the Chinese Bureau of Public Efficiency, will come to St. Louis next month to confer with the United Railways Committee of the Civic League on the local traction situation. He will also address the League's membership on this subject. Stikes was associated with movement to obtain the first Chicago Traction Ordinance of 1907, but advocated the additional ordinance, which was defeated at the polls on Nov. 5. He is an advocate of immediate municipalization of transportation systems.

RESIDENTS OF A PORTION OF THE district bounded by Grand and Tower Grove avenues and Park and Magnolia avenues, were without electricity for about two hours yesterday last night. At the Union Electric Light and Power Co. today it was said that the failure was due to trouble with an underground cable feeding that district.

THE AMERICAN LADY AUXILIARY, No. 2, will assist the Committee of the United Spanish War Veterans, holding their annual convention at the Little White House, all day Tuesday, Nov. 16.

THE WATER TOWER BAPTIST CHURCH will re-open Sunday with a peace celebration. The Pastor, Rev. J. W. Brown, has been spending a two months' vacation in Colorado. He returned to the church in the morning service of "The Revival of an Ancient Democracy."

RALPH LEVER, 4 YEARS OLD, OF 4341 Juniper street, and Everett Bernal, his brother, 18 months old, 4332 Humphrey street, were taken to the city hospital in a critical condition as the result of eating sugar-coated pills composed of a poison compound. The boys found a bottle of the tablets in a vacant lot at Humphrey street and Alfred avenue. The sugar coatings led them to believe they had found candy. Half an hour later they became ill.

MRS. MARY BRADLEY, 30, 4161 Orceola street, was injured seriously yesterday when thrown from an automobile of the Meyer Undertaking Co., 428 North Euclid avenue, in collision with an automobile driven by Max Schoenher, 2800 South Jefferson avenue, at Gravois avenue and Chipmunk street. She suffered a fractured rib, fractured shoulder and internal hurts.

POLICE HAVE APPEARED FOR AID for Anna Bowler and her four children, aged 7 years old, Roy, 3 years, Marie, 3 and Leo, 3 months who they found without food and money clothing and shelter. The children from their quarters at 4341 Pope avenue. The husband, Frank Bowler, 35 years old, has been ill for a month, and two days ago was removed to the city hospital, suffering from influenza. The wife and children were left without funds, and have been dependent on the charity of neighbors.

AUGUST PROBERT, 37 YEARS OLD, AND his wife, Mrs. Nettie Probert, 77, were found unconscious from gas in the kitchen of their home, 2228A Gravois avenue, last evening. Probert, who was revived, said he had been on the gas-lamp and had fallen before he could light it. His wife attempted to go to his aid, was overcome and fell near him.

THE DIVORCE SUIT OF MRS. MARIE I. RANDAZZO against Joseph N. Randazzo, 1400 West Pine, toward secretary of the Randazzo Macaroni Co., was taken under advisement yesterday before Judge Taylor. Mrs. Randazzo alleges that she and the defendant were married under the common law Jan. 2, 1917, after she had been divorced from her former husband, Frank Poe, and that they were separated June 8 last as a result of his violent temper. She is asking for alimony. Randazzo is fighting the case on the ground that he never was married to the plaintiff. He lives in the Louise Apartments, Lindell boulevard and Vandeventer avenue.

Jack Frost Baking Powder makes dough rise. Keeps cost of baking down. Full pound 25c. No advance in price.—Adv.

Was Not Bruckmann Co. Auto. In an item in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch relating that Henry Pieper, an architect of 3143 South Jefferson avenue, had been hit by an automobile. It was stated that the machine was the property of the Bruckmann Cooperage Co. The company states the car was owned and driven by Carl de Busmann, 4335 South Compton avenue, manager of the company.

When the child droops, won't play or is restless, pale and grumpy, look to see if the tongue is white, the breath feverish, the stomach sour. Then hurry, mother, but don't worry! Give Cascarets, the harmless candy cathartic. Children take Cascarets without coaxing—only 10 cents a box!

TO MOTHERS! Nothing else "works" the nasty bile, the sour fermentations and constipation poison so gently but so thoroughly from the little stomach, liver and bowels like harmless Cascarets. While children usually fight against laxatives and cathartics, they gladly eat a candy Cascaret. Cascarets never gripe the bowels, never sicken, never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contains directions for dose for children aged one year old and upwards.

ALLIES' SHOP WILL BE OPENED TOMORROW

Booths With Novelties on First Floor; Second Floor Like a French Village.

EVERYTHING is practically in readiness for the opening of the Allies' Shop to the public tomorrow at 608 North Broadway. This shop is under the direction of the American Fund for French Wounded and the Junior League and the money raised will be used by the former for work among the allied soldiers abroad and by the Junior League in their reconstruction work among disabled soldiers here.

These two organizations which number among its members many of the most prominent maids and matrons of the city have been untiring in their work for many weeks past to get things in shape for the opening and no doubt their efforts will be crowned with as much success as a similar one in Los Angeles, which in a little over a year's existence has cleared $150,000.

The first floor of the shop is given over to booths where a varied lot of articles will be sold including clothing, toys, art needlework, furniture, books, etc.

The second floor represents a village "Somewhere in France," where lunch and tea will be served by girls in Brittany peasant costumes. Mrs. George Marion Brown is chairman of this department, assisted by Mrs. Hal Brady and there is a corps of managers and waitresses for each day. Tomorrow Mrs. Warren Chandler will be in charge assisted by Misses Mary Frost, Ruth Culver, Lucy Ludington, Frances Carter, Margaret and Virginia Jones, Caroline Tyler, Queenie Deacon, Ellen Lee Hoffman, Beatrice Douglas, Dorothy Elliot, Frances Garrison, Dorothy Stewart, Lida Capen, Sue Boehnen, Lida Crawford, Lucile Capen and Mmes. Bransford Lewis, Fred Sultan, Richard Morey, and Mrs. Kehlop Carr.

The officers of the Allies' Shop are Mrs. Reginald Frost, president; vice presidents, Mmes. Charles Bascom, J. L. Mauran, Sam Scott; secretary, Mrs. Champ Connor, and treasurer, Miss Cora Lee King. The chairmen of the different departments include Mmes. Louis Hayward, Howard Benoit, D. R. Calhoun, J. P. Boogher, Robert Lee Kayser, Hermann von Schrenk, Frank P. Crunden, M. C. Blossom, Thomas K. Niedringhaus, John Douglass, Richard Boyle, Thomas P. Haley, T. G. Barstow, Ralph Johnson, Matthew G. Reynolds, George Marion Brown and Hal Brady, Misses George Elliot, Frances Gray and Evelyn Stewart.

WHY 'GERMANY COLLAPSED

With the American army at Sedan, the British approaching Waterloo, and the whole southern frontier of Germany opened to Allied Armies through the surrender of Austria, Germany was doomed when her representatives met Marshal Foch and Admiral Wemyss to agree on an armistice. As The Evening Post (New York) remarks, "Foch, the master, has played with skilled touch on the keys of a mighty organ from the North Sea to the Meuse; and in the final harmony the American Army has rung true."

Do not miss reading the leading news-features in THE LITERARY DIGEST for November 16th, if you would learn of the history-making events leading up to Germany's collapse.

Splendid Two-Page Colored Map in This Week's Number

This fine double-page Map is printed in two colors and presents the "Scene of the Western Battle-Line." It shows all territory from London to the River Rhine, including all of Belgium, Luxembourg, Western Germany and Northern France. The famous Hindenburg line as it existed before March 21, 1918, is indicated, also the line of furthest German advance this year in the big drives of March, April, May and June, and the present line of battle where the Allied armies are driving the Germans back, including the terrain contiguous to Sedan where the American doughboys have just won one of the most brilliant victories of the war. The Map is prepared with a special view to the conclusion of peace with Germany and shows all of Alsace-Lorraine, which Germany undoubtedly must surrender to France. The great fortress cities of the Rhine, which will no doubt be occupied by Allied garrisons as guarantees that Germany will pay for the damage she has done in the war, are also clearly shown. Practically all of the towns that are being liberated by the victorious Allies' advance and which are mentioned from day to day in the press dispatches are clearly visualized. This Map is so valuable as to be well worthy of preservation for present and future consultation.

FARMERS URGED TO SUPPORT UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Farm-

GIRLS! TRY IT!
HAVE A MASS OF WAVY, GLOSSY HAIR

Every particle of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandine" hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely invest a few cents in a bottle of Knowlton's Dandine at any drug store or toilet counter, and just try it.

Save your hair! Beautify it! You will say this was the best money you ever spent.—ADV.

HOMESICKNESS BLAMED FOR COMPLAINTS AT W. U. CAMP

The faculty at Washington University, in conjunction with the military authorities in charge of the Students' Army Training Corps there, has issued a statement in response to anonymous complaints concerning conditions.

The statement quotes Maj. Sprague, from the office of the Surgeon-General of the army, who inspected the cantonment last Monday as saying that only one other school visited by him equaled the camp in construction, scope and arrangement.

Criticism of the camp's sanitary condition, food and clothing supplies, contained in unsigned letters, are characterized by the commandant, Maj. Wallace M. Craigie, as "the whining of mamma's boys."

Regarding the recent removal of about 100 members of the corps to hospitals on account of influenza, Capt. L. L. Lummis, Post Adjutant, pointed out that the action had been taken as a precautionary measure, and said that there had been but three deaths in the six weeks since the unit was organized. At least 75 per cent of the cases reported, he said, were in the vocational section composed of drafted men from towns outside St. Louis.

Complaints about the food, Maj. Craigie said, were unfounded, and the result of homesickness of a few who found military life not quite up to their imagination.

The camp is at all times under medical supervision, the faculty says, there being two medical sections, each in charge of a physician.

TO WATCH SCHOOL CHILDREN FOR INFLUENZA SYMPTOMS

Hygiene Inspectors and Nurses Will Lay All Other Work Aside for This Duty.

The public and parochial schools, in reopening yesterday after the lifting of the influenza closing order, had virtually normal enrollments of 91,000 and 25,000, respectively. Dr. J. W. Withers, Superintendent of Public Schools, announced that any pupils, teacher, principal, janitor living in a home where influenza developed would be immediately excluded from school property. Teachers will watch the apparent condition of their pupils and hygiene inspectors and nurses will lay aside all other work to watch possible cases of influenza.

Public night schools, with an enrollment of 10,000, will reopen Monday.

Day and night classes at Washington University will resume Monday with an intensified course that will eliminate as many holidays as possible. There recently have been 101 cases of influenza reported among the Students' Army Training Corps and Vocation Training units at the university.

Special Saturday Chrysanthemums for football game: 25c each. Grimm & Gory.

DRAFT BOARD ISSUES WARNING

Questionnaires Must Be Filled Out and Examinations Undergone by Registrants.

The District Appeals Draft Board announced yesterday that registrants who fail to fill out and return questionnaires which they have received, or who fail to respond to summons to appear for physical examination, will be placed on the delinquent list and reported to the police.

Although dispatches from Washington had stated that questionnaires could be returned blank, no such instructions have been received by the board.

Athletics Play a Big Part In Keeping "Our Boys" Fit

All work and no play makes our boys dull soldiers. We must look out for their leisure if we want to keep them keen and clean and well. Peace makes it certain that they will have much leisure which must be provided for.

One of the big things which we have done for our boys, both in training camps and "over there," is to provide them with wholesome athletics. Every camp has its athletic director, under whose charge the boys have boxing, baseball, basketball, football, cross-country runs, track meets, wrestling, etc. The physical welfare of our boys determines their mental outlook.

To show the people of St. Louis some of the activities carried on by the seven organizations interested in the United War Work Campaign, a number of athletic events will be staged during the campaign.

Two of these—the Double-Header Football game and the Soccer game—will charge admission. The receipts from these two games will go to the United War Work fund. All of the other events will be given on Twelfth street and will be free.

Saturday, November 16th

Double-Header Football Game

Sportsman's Park, 2 P. M.—Admission $1. Box Seats $2 and $1.50

Scott Field vs. Ft. Riley (Camp Funston)

St. Louis University vs. Great Lakes Aviators

These two games will be one of the biggest football events ever held in St. Louis. Music by Scott Field and Jefferson Barracks bands. Airplane flights by Scott Field Aviators.

Tickets on sale at United War Work Headquarters, Broadway and Locust.

Sunday, November 17th

Soccer Football Game Cardinal Field, 2:30 P. M.

All-Star Team vs. Great Lakes Soccer Eleven

The Great Lakes team is one of the most formidable Soccer aggregations ever brought to St. Louis. It will be a great feat if the St. Louis All-Star team can win. Great Lakes Naval Band will furnish the Music. Admission 50c. Tickets on Sale at Gate. Receipts go to United War Work Fund.

Monday, November 18th

Novice boxing tournament of four bouts with Community singing between bouts. On Twelfth street, at noon. No admission charge.

Tuesday, November 19th

Wrestling tournament, two bouts. Community singing. On Twelfth street, at noon. No admission charge.

Wednesday, November 20th

Walking championship of one mile, between Private S. E. Linehan of Jefferson Barracks and Patrolman Robbins of the Police Department. A tug of war between Jefferson Barracks and Scott Field. Girls' Basket Ball game between two teams of the Municipal Athletic Association. On Twelfth street, at noon. No admission charge.

Thursday, November 21st

Gas Mask relay between Scott Field Service men. Fire Drill by Fire Department. Junior Marathon race. Starts at Forest Park and runs through residential section to Twelfth street.

Friday, November 22d

A competitive drill between the drill teams known as the Police Zuaves, the Shriners, the Grotto, the Firemen, and the Knights of Columbus. On Twelfth street, at noon. No admission charge.

Saturday, November 23d

A cross-country run between teams from Washington University, St. Louis University, Rolla School of Mines, Missouri University, Westminster College, Shurtleff College, Scott Field and Jefferson Barracks. This is an Amateur Athletic Union contest for which a cup of $50.00 is presented. While our cross-country runners are coming in we have a game of basketball between Washington University and St. Louis University. On Twelfth street, at noon. No admission charge.

Athletics form only a small part of the program of recreation, entertainment, and instruction provided for our boys by the seven organizations united in this great drive for funds. In giving, you are contributing to the health, happiness and moral welfare of our boys who have done so much for us. Give as liberally as you can. The need is far greater now than it was when our boys were fighting. Our fight is not won till the last boy is safely home.

Chests of Silver

A chest of silver gives added expression of value to an already valuable and appreciated gift. It completes the expression of affection and regard which prompted the giving.

We have many chests complete with sterling silver in all sizes varying with the number of pieces they contain. We give these suggestions of the values offered:

$107.00 is the price of a 30-piece Sterling Silver set in an elegantly lined and finished Oak Chest. Few gifts contain as much value for the money expended as a 14-piece set we show in a beautiful mahogany chest at $635.25

$1221.50 buys a magnificent mahogany chest containing a 5-piece tea set and 125 pieces of flat silver.

FRANCE PLANS RECONSTRUCTION OF INDUSTRY WITHOUT LOCKOUT

Debates Whether to Use German Prisoners in Actual Rebuilding or in Supplying Material for Restoration.

(Copyright, 1918.)
PARIS, Nov. 15.—Already the French Government is drawing up plans for the transformation of numerous factories, which, for close to four years, have been turning out war material. Steps are being taken to avoid any lockout.

It is thought by many that these factories will make material to be employed in reconstruction of the devastated districts of France and Belgium. It is as yet uncertain whether German prisoners will be employed to rebuild destroyed French homes or whether they will be sent back to make material for the restoration.

INFLUENZA INSURANCE

Keep Well By Taking MUNYON'S PAW PAW PILLS

This is no time to experiment. Take a known and tried laxative. MUNYON'S PAW PAW PILLS have been the only laxative permitted in homes of discriminating intelligent people for over thirty years. Doctors recommend them.

This remedy is especially prepared for children.

They are a natural vegetable laxative.

They do not gripe or weaken. They will not upset the stomach or deplete any of the organs. They act as a tonic and will build up the system.

They are highly recommended for warding off illness and depleting diseases.

For special diets and caring for the sick, address MUNYON'S LABORATORIES, 54th and Columbia Aves., Philadelphia.

(U. S. OFFICIAL WAR FILMS)

When our boys "went over" at Cantigny—

U.S. Signal Corps photographers were right on hand with their cameras.

The film secured on this occasion is part of the magnificent Government War Picture, "America's Answer."

When you see the Yankee lads go over the top, with the French tanks and flame-throwers for support, the tears come to your eyes and the cheers to your lips!

Perhaps you have a boy in the service yourself! Those precious letters that come to you from the far-off fighting front—"America's Answer" translates them to you in vivid pictures that speak eloquently of noble service rendered loyally in a worth-while cause.

President Wilson has described "America's Answer" as "One of the most remarkable and one of the most satisfactory portrayals of the war that he has seen."

You see exactly the same tremendously impressive film the President saw. You see, among other things, a group of German prisoners, including two Boche officers who resolutely turned their backs when the cameraman started clicking off his film.

"America's Answer" is the Government's own film—accurate and authentic in every detail. You learn more about the war in two hours than you have learned in four years! You can't afford to miss this marvelous war feature.

Insist on seeing

ATHLETICS PART OF WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

Elaborate Program Starts Monday With Three Boxing Bouts—City's Quota $3,000,000.

An athletic program has been arranged in connection with the United War Work campaign for $3,000,000 in St. Louis, which will open next Monday and continue for a week. The nation's quota for the seven agencies to be benefited is $170,500,000, but it has been stated that subscriptions to the amount of $250,000,000 are needed to properly carry forward the work now that the fighting has ceased.

The athletic events will open at Sportsman's Park tomorrow afternoon with a double-header football game, St. Louis University meeting the Great Lakes Aviators in the windup and Camp Funston meeting Scott Field in the preliminary. A flight by Scott Field aviators will precede the games.

Program for Week.

The program for the week following, which will be held in Twelfth street, between Olive and Pine streets, follows:

Monday: Three boxing bouts.

Tuesday: Wrestling bout under the direction of the Missouri Athletic Association and singing by the St. Louis Quartet.

Wednesday: Basketball game between girls' team of the Municipal Athletic Association.

Thursday: Fire drill and gas mask relay race.

Friday: Exhibition drills by teams of the Police Department, Shriners, Grotto and Knights of Columbus.

Cross-Country Run.

In addition, there will be a cross-country run open to members of the Students' Army Training Corps in St. Louis on Thursday and a junior marathon under the auspices of the Missouri Athletic Association on Tuesday.

The cross-country run will start at noon in Forest Park, the runners going over a six and one-half mile course to Twelfth street. Entries are expected from Scott Field, Jefferson Barracks, Missouri University, Rolla School of Mines and other schools of the State.

Between 500 and 1000 boys are expected to participate in the marathon run, which start at the Lindell entrance to Forest Park to Twelfth street, over a marked route.

Need of Heavier Donations.

The need of heavier subscriptions now that fighting is ended is pointed out in the following comment of William H. Crawford of the National Publicity division of the campaign on a letter of Senator Wilfley of Missouri urging the State to give its utmost:

"The boys were contented as long as they were fighting, for they were inspired by patriotism, and put up with any number of hardships as long as they could get at the Hun. The trying times, however, will come during the period of reconstruction and the necessity of these organizations will be increased tenfold because there will be a let-down in the enthusiasm among the boys. They will be anxious to return home as soon as their duties are over."

"This of course will be impossible as it will take 18 months or two years at least before they can be sent to America and mustered out of service. They will have more leisure and leisure breeds discontent. Therefore, in order to keep up their morale, it will be more necessary to amuse, instruct and entertain them."

FOUR POUNDS OF SUGAR NOW ALLOWED FOR EACH PERSON

All Restriction to Be Lifted Jan. 1—Order as to Flour Purchases Abolished.

Householders now may purchase four pounds of sugar per person in the family under the second modification within three weeks of the sugar regulations of the United States Food Administration, announced by St. Louis Food Administrator Gephart last night. Previous to Nov. 1 only two pounds per person could be purchased. On that date the allotment was raised to three pounds.

Gephart further announced that the sugar division of the Food Administration would be abolished Jan. 1, thus removing all restrictions on the consumption of sugar. The New England states, however, are not affected by the modification. Candy and soft drink manufacturers now may have 100 per cent of their sugar needs.

It was announced from Washington yesterday that all restrictions on wheat had been rescinded, the end of fighting having released huge stores of wheat in Australia and Argentina. The baking division of the administration has been abolished. Regulations on the consumption of meat still are in force.

VERDICT OF CARELESSNESS

Driver of Horse Held Responsible for Man's Death.

Robert McElvinney, 30, of 4146 Lexington avenue, was charged with criminal carelessness in a verdict returned today by a Coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of Herman H. Staats, 22, of 4162 Natural Bridge avenue, who was run over and fatally injured by a wagon driven by McElvinney in front of 2500 North Whittier street, yesterday. Staats leaped from an automobile to stop the horse, but fell and the wagon passed over him.

Testimony at the inquest showed that McElvinney and the owner of the wagon, Morris Gutelman, 60, a taxi dealer, of 1832 Biddle street, had quarreled, and that McElvinney jumped into Gutelman's wagon and drove away. Staats pursued him in an automobile.

IS YOUR FAMILY FREE FROM COLDS?

Coughs and Colds don't linger when Dr. King's New Discovery is used.

You owe it to your family—to yourself—to keep this standard remedy in your medicine chest.

For almost three generations it has been the first-choice cold and cough relief of millions of people, young and old.

Helps to bring quick relief—loosen chest-stuffiness, reduce fever, soothe irritated throats, check coughing.

Sold by druggists. 60c and $1.20.

Dizzy? Billous? Constipated? Don't permit yourself to become constipated, as your system immediately begins to absorb poison from the backed-up waste matter. The Dr. King's New Life Pills and keep well. Try them. All druggists, 25c.—ADV.

Influenza, Sore Throat, Colds, Pneumonia

Yields Quickly to Antiseptic Oil Treatment.

Many are finding relief from Influenza, Colds, Sore Throat, and perhaps preventing pneumonia, it is said, by the use of Miller's Antiseptic Oil (known as Snake Oil). Its great penetrating, pain-relieving qualities insure almost instant relief when applied freely on the chest or throat wall greased when first symptoms arise. The oil penetrates through to the affected parts and tends to open up the air passages, making breathing more easy, relieving the pains. And for the cough a few drops on a little sugar usually brings prompt relief. Don't fail to have a bottle on hand when the attack comes on, and if used according to directions results are assured, or your money refunded. On sale at Wolf-Wilson Drug Co. and Enderle Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo., and all druggists, 50c, 60c and $1.00 bottles.—ADV.

A Dead Stomach

Of What Use Is It?

Thousands see hundreds of thousands of people throughout America are taking the slow death treatment daily. They are murdering their own stomachs, the best friend they have, and in their sublime ignorance they think they are putting aside the laws of nature.

This is no sensational statement; it is a startling fact, the truth of which any honorable physician will not deny.

These thousands of people are overlooking daily huge quantities of poison and other strong stimulants made especially to digest the food in the stomach without any aid at all from the digestive membrane of the stomach.

Millions stomach tablets relieve distressed stomach in five minutes; they move the food down the stomach and make it worse enough to digest its own food. These indigestion, heartburn, stomach and headache will.

Millions stomach tablets are sold by druggists everywhere and by mail. See the Post-Dispatch poultry. Want Ads—Especially Sunday.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Was This Justice?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 So serious a miscarriage of justice took place in the Circuit Court recently that Judge Calhoun arose from the bench and scathingly denounced the jury. So widespread will be the effect of this case on the foreign colony in St. Louis and the fate of immigrant women that it deserves the fullest and most searching attention. A man, Kirschka by name, with the Old World idea that his wife was his property, brutally murdered this wife with a stove lighter last spring, crushing in her head like an egg, knocking in her eye, tearing off her ear and breaking her hands and arms. This atrocious act was committed, as all the testimony showed, merely because the woman would not submit to his will in all things. So hopeless was the defendant's case that an astute counsel requested that he be allowed to plead guilty and be granted a five-year sentence. This the State refused to allow, holding out for the maximum penalty.

With the overwhelming evidence from doctors, police officers, social workers and others of the extreme brutality of the murder and of the self-possession of the defendant, whose only desire was to obtain freedom, a jury of 12 men brought in a verdict of guilty, with only two years' imprisonment attached. This, because the learned counsel for the defendant played on their sex antagonism, putting the whole blame for the murder on a "nagging wife" and skillfully playing on their own domestic experiences and asking them if they would condemn a man severely for murder in such circumstances.

This is the idea of justice to which our new citizens from across the water are being introduced by our present system, with men juries. Being an immigrant, working among these people, I know the effect that it will have on many foreign-born men, already imbued with the idea that wives are their chattels. Many of them have watched this case with interest, and the results will be seen in the foreign colony. Does not this case show that a searchlight should be thrown on our methods of criminal justice? And does it not show the utter absurdity of man-made jury decisions, when a group of men—without representation of women—on the jury—decide in such an arbitrary fashion that a man can do with his wife as he sees fit?

 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 On behalf of the St. Louis Belgian Babies' Committee, we desire to thank you for your assistance in our recent campaign for funds.

Through the publicity you gave this worthy cause, both through your new columns, cartoons and advertisements, the attention of the citizens was directed to the campaign in a forcible manner. It is with pleasure that we are able to say that the total sum raised has exceeded $41,000.

Again thanking you for your splendid support, we are very truly yours,

Give Dr. Starkloff Credit.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 I have just read the letter in your paper signed "Good-by, Starkloff." It seems there is a lot of duties ascribed to Dr. Starkloff's office, as the writer demands he explain why New York City has no influenza. But I think surely he has as much as he can do here without finding out the whys and wherefores of a place so distant as New York. As to the value of the said masks, I am sure it was not Dr. Starkloff's idea originally, as they have been used everywhere. They are only used as a possible aid in keeping off so dreadful a disease as the influenza has proved to be. I for one think Dr. Starkloff should have the thanks of our great city for his conscientious effort to protect the people and not the money of St. Louis.

 Among many other things for which we should be profoundly thankful is that the boar-tusk style of mustache has been put out of style forever.

Include Them All.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 In reference to your Christmas Saving Fund for the St. Louis soldiers, why not have the St. Louis colored soldiers represented in the fund? I am positive there were colored soldiers sent from St. Louis as well as other cities or towns. They went just like the white soldier, and when he was called on was called for the same purpose—to fight and be found on the battlefield, or to fight and be welcomed home. Now, the colored soldier has been carried far from home and fought side by side with the American white man and the allies. So why not let him be in on the Christmas Fund for St. Louis soldiers?

FOR THE SAKE OF DEMOCRACY.

A USEFUL MEMORIAL.

Undoubtedly St. Louisans will erect a memorial to the gallant men of the city who gave or risked life and limb for the country in the war for justice and liberty. What shall be the form of the memorial?

A memorial tablet is excellent to mark the place where an heroic action took place or to preserve the names of heroes. A statue is an excellent memorial to a man who has greatly served his country, his state, his city or his people.

A memorial, however, to the sons of a city who served in a war for liberation and security—a war to end war—should take a useful form.

Would not a beautiful municipal building, designed to serve a useful and beneficent purpose, apart from business, be the best form of memorial?

It might well be a building devoted to philanthropic purposes.

It might be a children's building, designed to house and promote activities in behalf of the physical, moral and spiritual welfare of the wards of the city.

It might well be a war and peace museum—a combination of war relics and memorials with an exposition of industrial arts and crafts.

We might combine one or more of these ideas with a great convention and assemblage building, which the city much needs.

We offer these suggestions in order that serious thought may be given to the form our memorial shall take. The usual monument, erected in a park, is seldom beautiful or satisfactory. A beautiful building may combine all the arts. It is an ornament in itself and offers opportunity to memorialize the deeds of war, the heroes of war and the arts and crafts of peace.

St. Louis ought to have an industrial arts and crafts exposition in preparation for and in promotion of the vast expansion of manufacture and trade that will come after the war.

When an empire goes bankrupt it puts out the red flag of the auctioneer.

CHRISTMAS FOR FRIENDLESS SOLDIERS.

The St. Louis Chapter of the Red Cross wishes to send 10,000 Christmas packages to friendless soldiers in the American expeditionary forces abroad. Red Cross rules preclude the diversion of Red Cross money to this purpose. Gen. Pershing has requested all friendless soldiers to turn their Christmas parcel labels over to the Red Cross, who will see that they are not forgotten at Yuletide. The cost of each Christmas box for a soldier is $1.50, and up to Wednesday of this week the St. Louis chapter had received less than $3000 towards this fund. The money for the boxes must be in the hands of the Red Cross Parcel Fund, 1012 Frisco Building, by Saturday of this week.

Here is an opportunity for St. Louis people to show their gratitude in an entirely disinterested way to the thousands of our soldiers who have been at the front, toiling, suffering and risking their lives—not for relatives, home and fireside—for they have not these blessings—but for duty and country, for all of us.

Most of these men have been debared the common comfort of receiving letters and parcels from home. But they have been faithful, and their faithfulness should be recognized.

The Government will see to it that they are cared for after their return. But the least we can do now is to make their Christmas happy. Not one of them should be without a Red Cross Christmas box.

Liberty still has three kings to draw to—George, Albert and Emmanuel.

OUR FRIENDLY SISTER REPUBLIC.

Today, on the anniversary of the establishment of the United States of Brazil as a republic in 1889, the new President, Dr. Francisco de Paula Rodriguez Alves, will be inaugurated. The sympathetic friendship existing between the United States of Brazil and the United States of America has been of long standing and there is every reason to expect that under the presidency of Dr. Alves this cordial relationship will not only be continued, but intensified. Dr. Alves, while President of Brazil from 1902 to 1906, raised the Brazilian legation in Washington to an embassy. He was chiefly responsible for Brazil's generous and excellent representation at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis.

Declaring that he thought it desirable at this time to bring into closer commercial and political relations the two great republics of North and South America, President Alves has taken a significant step in this direction by appointing as his Secretary of State Dr. Domício de Gama, who for many years has ably represented Brazil as Ambassador in Washington.

Brazil is our associate in the great war for justice and liberty which has just ended, and under peace and its fresh stimulus to friendly co-operation Brazil and the United States should reap great benefits. With the development of both countries there will be many opportunities for pleasant and profitable exchange. Both countries are standing for free democratic civilization. Cordial relations with Brazil particularly appeal to St. Louisans, whose trade relations with our sister republic should be greatly stimulated by the renewal of water transportation. Dr. Sebastião Jampai, the new Consul in this city, who was an able journalist in Rio de Janeiro and is a strong friend of the United States, is enthusiastic over the prospect of closer relations and offers every facility of his office to that end.

DARK DAYS FOR THE ARISTOCRACIES.

That an echo of the revolution sweeping Germany should be heard in Holland was to be expected, and already Soviets of soldiers and citizens are demanding reforms. As Dutch neutrality gave cause for complaint alternately to the allies and to Germany, it may be assumed to have been technically correct. But a strong, though secret, sympathy for the Kaiser on the part of Queen Wilhelmina and her German husband has been repeatedly charged in the London press and is asserted to have been a cause of great dissatisfaction to the Dutch people.

Holland can be further liberalized, to its own great advantage. In other European countries outside of the former autocracies, liberalizing processes summarily arrested many years ago can now be resumed. One of them is Sweden, where the remnants of an old arbitrary system still survive. Another is Spain, where reaction had had most injurious effects on popular thought and national progress. Norway may retire and pension its toy king.

The influence of the war in the direction of popular rule will by no means be confined to the European belligerents. A revolutionary movement similar to that of 1848 may be expected to sweep the whole continent, playing havoc with restrictive aristocratic institutions.

ABDICATIONS.

From the Indianapolis News.

THERE have been more abdications than is generally supposed. Over 40 since the beginning of the Christian era are chronicled by the historians, three of them being of Popes. They were not all strictly abdications, but in all there was a yielding of power, either voluntarily or under pressure—mostly the latter. Two English Kings—Richard II and James II—were in the list. In France abdications have been quite the fashion. The great Napoleon abdicated twice, and he was followed by Charles X and Louis Philippe. Napoleon III was forced from power. Four monarchs of Spain have abdicated—Philip V, Charles IV, Isabella II and Amadeus I. Most of the other abdications were monarchs of kingdoms that have long since ceased to exist—such as Brandenburg, Poland, Spolia, the eastern empire, Sardinia, Naples and Tuscany. Two American Emperors have abdicated—both of Brazil. Portugal lost a Miguel in this way in 1834, and another one as a result of revolution a few years ago. The most noted abdication next to that of Napoleon was that of Charles V, the Emperor, which was wholly voluntary. The most noted abdications in Roman history are those of Sulla the Dictator, and the Emperor Diocletian. Thrones have fallen in this year as never before. The Czar of Russia, two Czars of Bulgaria, the King of Greece, and the German Kaiser have disappeared and the Emperor of Austria-Hungary is seen to follow them.

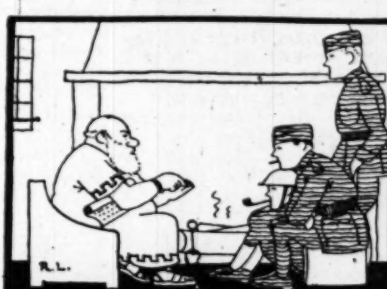

His have lost their thrones, but only temporarily. In this remarkable record must be included King Ludwig of Bavaria. In one of Browning's poems is this: "There's meaning in the fact That who conquers, triumphs, enters Rome, Climbing the Capitoline, soaring thus To glory's summit—Publius, do you mark— Ever the same attendant who, behind, Above the conqueror's head support the crowns All too demonstrative for human wear— One hand's employment—all the while serves Its fellow, backward flung, to point how close. Appended from the car, beneath the foot Of the up-borne, exulting conqueror, Prawn-half desecrated—the instruments of shame. The malefactor's due. Crown now—Crown, when?"

Who stands secure? Are even gods so safe? Certainly no man is safe who could even dream of using such words as these, which are from a proclamation of the Kaiser in 1914, addressed to his army of the East: "The spirit of the Lord has descended upon me because I am the Emperor of the Germans. I am the instrument of the Almighty. I am His sword, His agent. Wee and death to all those who oppose my will! Wee and death to those who do not believe in my mission! Wee and death to the cowards! Let them perish, all the enemies of the German people! God demands their destruction. God who, by my mouth, bids you to do His will. Now this man is skulking in Holland, finding his mission—quite other than his supposed."

Socrates: What is there to it? We had the right man in the right place at a time when what we had learned about government could avail those who had never had that opportunity. Thrasymachus: Long live America! Socrates: You may well say so, Thrasymachus. One may be proud of being an American citizen at this time. Polemarchus: You said something then. Socrates: Ah, my young friend! We shall be a long time realizing what we have done for the world. Glaucou: And the world, Socrates? Socrates: The world is finding out soon enough. SOCRATES ON THE OUTCOME.

GLAUCON: Ah, Socrates! We have been hoping to find you. Socrates: That is very sweet of you. Glaucou: Oh, fiddlers! We want to know what we are to think of it all. Socrates: So that is it. Well, it has turned out nicely, don't you think? Polemarchus: It certainly has. Glaucou: However, you are in some doubt of what to expect. Thrasymachus: That is it, Socrates. We don't feel that we have either the vision or experience to foresee what is to follow.

Socrates: Very well; suppose we begin. A new voice has arisen in the world—the voice of America. It says to men everywhere, "Be free!" Socrates: Men everywhere are casting off their shackles, and there is a perfect frenzy of freedom all over Europe. Polemarchus: Precisely. Socrates: The average in the news is about four republics a day. Glaucou: It beats all. Socrates: So it does. Yet it is not so surprising. Did not Wilson say that the world was to be made safe for democracy, and is not a republic the best expression of democracy? Thrasymachus: Of course. Socrates: What we are witnessing, then, is an accomplishment of exactly the ideal which was our objective. Glaucou: That is so, of course. Socrates: Why does democracy arise everywhere? Is it not simply because the world has been made safe for it?

Polemarchus: Exactly. Socrates: Well said, Polemarchus! Both because of the way in which America went into the war and the manner in which Wilson put what was in our minds. In other words, we had a great opportunity to do something for humankind. Thanks to Wilson, we simply improved that opportunity. Glaucou: So we did. Socrates: What else is there to it? We had the right man in the right place at a time when what we had learned about government could avail those who had never had that opportunity. Thrasymachus: Long live America! Socrates: You may well say so, Thrasymachus. One may be proud of being an American citizen at this time. Polemarchus: You said something then. Socrates: Ah, my young friend! We shall be a long time realizing what we have done for the world. Glaucou: And the world, Socrates? Socrates: The world is finding out soon enough. ## Legal Questions in the Way of Extradition of Ex-Kaiser From Holland for Trial Analyzed

Dutch May Not Be Compelled to Give Him Up if They Choose to Protect Him, Says Prof. Edmunds—Political and Military Refugees Inviolable.

By Sterling E. Edmunds,

Lecturer on International Law, St. Louis University Law School.

NO question involved in the settlement of the great war still legally in existence is of greater present interest than that as to the future of the ex-German Emperor, now a fugitive in Holland.

As the war lord and responsible head of the German empire, he is technically if not actually the author of the calamities that have afflicted the world since July 28, 1914, and there exists no small sentiment in favor of the enforcement as against him of adequate measures of punishment.

But William Hohenzollern is in neutral Dutch territory beyond the reach of the jurisdiction of any other state, nor may any other state, as a matter of law, demand his surrender into its hands. The sovereignty of a state over all persons within its territory is in principle absolute, although for purposes of utility and convenience states have acquiesced in self-imposed limitations involved in the so-called right of legation and in treaties of extradition, for example.

Effect of the English Indictment. As between Holland and England there exists the usual extradition treaty, including the usual treaty defenses. The German Emperor was indicted in an English court in 1916 on a charge of murder, following a Zeppelin raid upon English towns. Since murder is a treaty offense, it might be thought that England has merely to demand William Hohenzollern's surrender of Holland in order to procure jurisdiction over his person. But there are at least two sound reasons why Holland would refuse to comply with such request, even if made. In the first place, treaties of extradition universally exempt from the classes of offenders to be delivered up those whose crimes are founded in a political motive, such as characterize the ex-Emperor's crimes; and in the second place, the alleged offense of murder committed in consequence of an incident to war is outside of the cognizance of a civil tribunal. If a crime at all, it is a war crime, of which a military court alone may assume jurisdiction.

Holland has certain rights and duties under international law with respect to the ex-German Emperor, as a fugitive on her soil and they may be inferred from Article XI of The Hague convention No. 5, of 1907, relating to neutral states. This article sets out:

Instrument Conditions Discussed. "A neutral Power which receives on its territory troops belonging to the belligerent armies shall intern them, as far as possible, at a distance from the theater of war. It may keep them in camps and even confine them in fortresses or in places set apart for this purpose. "It shall decide whether officers can be left at liberty on giving their parole not to leave the neutral territory without permission. "The rights and duties of neutral states under this convention exist only as an incident to wars and cease, of course, with the cessation of war. The ex-Emperor has abdicated and in consequence has ceased to be the active Commander in Chief of the German armies, but he is none the less a military personage so far as Holland's rights and duties as a neutral are concerned. He may resign his throne as a monarch but he cannot resign the military character which has attached to him nor the responsibility which may be his under the laws of war.

Whether or not he will ever answer to a military or other tribunal depends very largely upon whether a state desirous of bringing him to judgment can procure jurisdiction over his person. There is no world organization as yet which seeks to vindicate the principles of international law, although the present conflict has pointed to the dire

Boxer Rebellion Precedent. A very recent instance of the vindication of the right of legation by Powers directly injured occurred in China following the Boxer rebellion, where the allied powers insisted in the conditions of settlement that the responsible authors of attacks upon foreign diplomatic agents be punished. In fulfillment of this demand many exalted Chinese personages, including members of the royal family, were sentenced to execution, suicide and posthumous degradation. It is pertinent to the present case that the British and French Governments have repeatedly announced that violators of the laws of civilized warfare among the enemy would ultimately be punished. The maintenance of a record which included even the names of company commanders. With respect to those not sheltered in neutral asylum, it is not certain that they will escape.

Whether or not he will ever answer to a military or other tribunal depends very largely upon whether a state desirous of bringing him to judgment can procure jurisdiction over his person. There is no world organization as yet which seeks to vindicate the principles of international law, although the present conflict has pointed to the dire

KAISER'S ABDICATION MAY BE SHAM, SAYS LONDON EXPRESS

Former Ruler Still Wears Uniform, Has Signed No Document, and Issued No Farewell Paper Points Out.

(Copyright, 1918.)

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Reasons for the allies demanding the surrender of the Kaiser into their hands accumulate. "There are strong suspicions," says the Daily Express, "that his abdication may be a theatrical sham, and that he proposes to return to the stage. "Unlike Karl of Hapsburg, he has signed no document renouncing this position, and has issued no farewell to his troops or his people. After wearing civilian dress for a few hours, he is again strutting about in his full uniform. "His bearing suggests nervousness, but neither repentance nor humility. What game is William Hohenzollern playing? The Dutch people are anxious. The Germans are still more anxious. "An Elba just over the border is not to the liking of the new government. For the allies, the question is one of justice as well as precaution. "There is no diminution here of the resolve that he be brought to trial and punishment for his unspeakable crimes against humanity. "Some people here so utterly distrust everything German that they really suspect the genuineness of the revolution, insisting that the whole business was framed up to baffie the victors in getting compensation out of Germany."

AMSTERDAM, Thursday, Nov. 14.—Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany arrived at Maastricht on Tuesday, from Spa, having taken a circuitous route in order to avoid mutinous troops. The party, which traveled in three motor cars, was held up by frontier guards because all its members were armed. Internment was ordered, but when it became known that one of the party was the Crown Prince, all were disarmed and detained until the arrival of the Dutch Commander at Maastricht and other officials. The Crown Prince accompanied the Commander to the latter's home, where he remains with his suite, under guard, pending instructions from The Hague.

The Gilded Man

A Romance of the Andes
By Clifford Smyth.

Chapter XVI (Continued.)

At first Herran was somewhat uncertain of his footing. But Miranda helped him until he got over his dazed feeling sufficiently to walk alone. Then they all followed along single file, skirting the edge of the darkness, beyond which they could dimly see the caverns fighting, but without being able to tell how the fortunes of the battle were going, and making for the Condor Gate as quickly as they could. Once beyond that point they would be relieved, they thought, at least temporarily, from the inconveniences of a battle in which most of them had been forced to play the part of target only. Having passed this danger zone, they would set about placing as generous a distance as possible between themselves and their warlike companions. Further retreat, it is true, meant the abandonment of the outer cave for a venture into realms whither Antioo had been conducting them, practically as captives, to an unknown fate. But the situation left them no alternative. Everything depended on their finding the queen—and then, having found her, their fate depended on the kind of woman she might be.

"A great thing this," muttered Leighton to himself, "at my age to be in the power of the queen of a race of cave-men!"

"They are good peoples," remarked Miranda dubiously.

"I trust Antioo," declared Una. "His queen will protect us."

"She will behead us!" exclaimed Mrs. Quayle, whose spirits were hopelessly flustered by the uproar of battle that resounded through the cave. "Queens always behead people. Why did we ever come into this frightful place? We can never escape."

"Do be quiet, woman!" commanded Leighton, who did not care to hear his own thoughts voiced in this manner.

"Hold the tongue!" growled Miranda savagely.

"We have escaped already," said Una. "I believe this is the end of the cave."

"Caramba! that is so," agreed Miranda delightedly. "It is changed—and there is some light."

"Yes, there actually is some light," said Leighton. "But—where does it come from?"

Having passed through the great portal that separated them from Antioo and his men, they were soon following a narrow path that ran between two high walls of rock. This path was at first scarcely discernible. As they turned a sharp corner, however, the darkness gradually lifted and they found it possible, for the first time, to distinguish certain objects a considerable distance ahead of them—and judging by the direction in which the shadows from these objects were thrown, it was evident that the light was not a reflection cast by torches carried by warring cave-men.

This discovery was hailed as a momentous one, open to two interpretations. Since, as every one knows, caves are never lighted from sources contained in themselves, they must now be bearing another party of cave-men, who were carrying lanterns, or else, through some twist in subterranean topography, they had stumbled upon an underground passageway to the outer world. No sooner was the latter possibility suggested, however, than its improbability was recognized. No rays from sun or moon were ever like flickering, ghostly—illuminating the grotesque forms around them. This light had a tingling quality, as of sparks that snap and glitter when they are thrown off from an electric battery. It was certainly not a light, or moonlight either, as the explorers quickly realized. There remained the idea that it came from lights carried by an approaching band of cave-men.

"It is like the torches of Antioo's musicians!" exclaimed Una; "it's not from the sun."

"It begins to be too bright, and at the same time too far off, for that," objected Leighton.

"It is one big fire!" said Miranda.

"A bonfire," interjected Andrew. "—and when we come there we will see."

Pressing on along this path, the light steadily increased, although revealing to the explorers nothing of its origin. They could walk now at a fairly round pace, and as their range of vision extended their attention was completely taken up in a study of the strange objects to be seen in the unknown world about them.

Great walls of white basalt, veined with broad bands of glistening emerald, towered on either side, reaching up to a crystalline roof that spread forth, far as eye could reach, at an altitude scorning the limitations of human architecture. The irregularities of the outer cave, with its rough bowlders and piles of fallen debris, its dark masses of shapeless sandstone, was exchanged here for forms of marvelous symmetry, fashioned, one could but imagine, for the enjoyment of a race of beings to whom the majesty of beauty must be an ever-living reality. Seen by the explorers, in the wavering half-light that filled the cave, the bold outlines of cliff and battlement were softened and blended in a vague witchery of design suggesting meaning and distance varying with the fancy of the beholder. It was a vale of enchantments, an Aladdin's cave, from which anything might be expected with the mere rubbing of a ring—or a lamp.

As the path broadened the walls came less precipitous; on their objects could be distinguished, anywhere else, would have been taken for man's handiwork. Tiny dwellings appeared to be carved out of solid rock, the jutting forth, from their sides, while feathery forms of dwarf trees and plants, whose leaves were of a spectral transparency, whose branches were twisted in thread-like traceries of lines and figures, found sustenance where not a foothold of earth was discernible. That such evidences of botanical life should appear in a cavern remote from the sun's heat and light was surprising enough to all the explorers; to Leighton it savored of the miraculous. Ever since the adventure with the Black Magnet the savant, indeed, had drifted into such a state of bewilderment that he was more helpless in grasping the inexplicable. But here he was as a mariner adrift in midocean, in a rudderless ship, without sails or compass. Everything seemed at odds

THE ART OF GETTING EITHER FAT OR THIN

CHAPTER X.

TESTIMONIALS.

After you have reduced or gained, let me share your joys. Write me a little note. You need not sign your name if you don't want to. I anticipate the following:

DEAR DOCTOR:

I am so grateful to you, Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters, for what you have done for me. After reading your book, "Diet and Health, With Key to the Calories," my chronic case of meanness—I mean leanness—was absolutely cured. My weight, which was —, now is —, and I am on my way to normal. I am fond of you.

From the Field

DEAREST DOCTOR:

I cannot be too grateful to you, dear Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters, for your book, "Diet and Health, With Key to the Calories," for I have lost — pounds! My weight was —, and now is —, and I am on my way to normal.

Dear Doctor:

For your book, "Diet and Health, With Key to the Calories," words are inadequate to express my thanks. For I have been delivered from a chronic affliction of many years' duration, for which I had tried all known methods of cure. I refer to the smoking of cigars by my husband. He suddenly found he had no desire for the noxious weed! Your arm and leg exercises are wonderful.

A Wonderful Demonstration

CHAPTER XI.

AN APOLOGY AND SOME AMENDMENTS.

On re-reading this literary gem, humorous classic, and scientific treatise on weight reduction and gaining, I see that I have a very intimate mixture of the thin and the fats. But that is as it should be for balance. I had intended to keep you strictly separate, but the preaching, the exercises, the definitions, the Key to the Calories, and so forth, was matter that was applicable to both, so it could not be done.

I have just got to bring this to a close now, if I have it ready as I promised, for the lecture, "Watch Your Weight," I am glad of it, too. I am getting so — funny it is painful. I will close with the next chapter. It will be beautifully scientific, but not funny, I promise.

SOME AMENDMENTS.

You perhaps have noticed that my first chapter is called "Preliminary But," and that I have gone on to prize fighting term, and I meant it for the picture of me fighting myself, not for the club meeting. I have attended many club meetings, and in none of them have I ever seen any fighting that would have taken any prize anywhere, although I will say I have seen and have myself personally conducted some very classy stuff.

I do not use slang. I use only the purest, most refined and cultured English. I leave slang to those who can get it with it and put it over.

So where I have used dashes you may use your favorite slang words. Mine were deleted by the censors.

Mrs. Ima Gobbler is not really fat enough to be called fat only 40 or 50 pounds overweight, but she is fond of me and I took liberties with her. She is a darling.

She is a purist, too. I called her up after I put her in my book, and I said, "You are fond of me, aren't you, Mrs. Gobbler?" And she said, "You betcha." "And you are a good sport, aren't you?" "Surest thing you know!" "That's good, for I have said a horrid thing to you. I had to, in order to stop the club discussion." And she responded suitably, "Go to it, kid!"

Mrs. Sheeaslie's husband did not really have to buy her a pair of freight scales; that is just a gentle joke. The ordinary scales will weigh 300 pounds, I believe. She is also a dear.

My husband's eyes are not really green, nor is he cross-eyed. They are the loveliest, softest brown. The green eyes belong on the maternal side of this house.

My artist is not really nated. He is just an ordinary adorable 10-year-old kiddie. Aren't his little figures the dearest ever?

All the characters in my book are friends of mine. Perhaps you had better substitute were for, there was one woman mentioned in my original manuscript, and my husband said what have you put her in for? Pattie? (a corruption of Pettie, a H-moon hangerover) she is no friend of yours; she knocks you. And I said loftily like, I want you to know I'll (corruption of)

been taken for man's handiwork. That such evidences of botanical life should appear in a cavern remote from the sun's heat and light was surprising enough to all the explorers; to Leighton it savored of the miraculous. Ever since the adventure with the Black Magnet the savant, indeed, had drifted into such a state of bewilderment that he was more helpless in grasping the inexplicable. But here he was as a mariner adrift in midocean, in a rudderless ship, without sails or compass. Everything seemed at odds with the settled beliefs and theories of science as he knew them. Nothing was so foreign to him as the less capable as a leader than the volatile Miranda who, although fairly well trained in the modern way of looking at things, did not trouble himself to explain the marvels that met them at every turn in their wanderings.

"They live in the walls, these people!" exclaimed the doctor, "and they have trees and plants without the sun and rain."

That was all that need be said. The fact was a fact, delightful beyond most facts just because it was so outlandish, so opposed to all experience, and it gained nothing in interest or anything else by trying to explain it—although Miranda did, on occasion, take a hand at explaining these puzzling matters.

Entertaining as these discoveries and discussion might be, however, the feeling that they had stumbled into a region inhabited by a race of men who lived in a manner unknown to them—and who, moreover, had already given evidence of unfriendliness towards strangers—was not reassuring to Miranda or any of the rest of them. The end of their adventure grew every moment more puzzling. Since their escape from Antioo they had not actually met any one. Perhaps this part of the cave was not inhabited at all. Perhaps Antioo's talk of a queen was not to be taken too seriously. The curious objects projecting from the walls far above them might not be the human dwellings that at first sight they appeared. Even the signs of an unearthly vegetation might prove a sort of mirage, or they might turn out to be mere specimens of basaltic formation—fantastic enough, certainly—wrought by the subterranean convulsions that had given birth to this cave measureless ages ago. But the air had become so strangely invigorating, the mysterious light so pervasive and even brilliant, that anything seemed possible. This atmospheric vitality, a certain bracing quality in the air, had been noted, indeed, among their first experiences in the outer cave. But, compared with this that now tingled and

One day Simon told Jack he was going to sell the big brindle cow to the butcher and that he was to drive the next day to the town, a few miles away.

Jack and Nina were very fond of Brindle Cow and wept bitterly when they heard this. They begged Simon to let the old fellow have her, but he told them he would not listen to any such silly chatter and for Jack to be off the next morning bright and early.

Nina put her arms around Brindle Cow and cried when Jack was ready to lead her away and watched them down the road; but her tears blinded her so she could not see far, and she went back to see Simon's breakfast with a sad heart.

"I thought you were never coming," said the little creature.

Jack thought it was to him she was speaking, and while he tried to find his tongue Brindle Cow answered: "We had to wait for daylight, you know," she said.

"I know; but the sun will soon be up and I must get home before that," said the fairy. "Now what can I do for you?"

"I have thought of a plan," said the fairy, "that will save you from the butcher and will not cause you any friends the least harm, either. It is this:

"Instead of changing you into some other shape, why not change your master into a kind and good man?" "Oh, that would be best of all," said Jack. "That is, if Brindle Cow does not object to remaining a cow."

"I would rather be a cow if I can be sure I am going to live," replied Brindle Cow. "But you can understand, of course, there can be no joy in life for me with the butcher staring me in the face."

"Well, that is all settled then," replied the fairy, "and although the sun is setting up I think I can get to your master without letting the old sun man see me, for it is cool and shady along the road to the farm. You two wait here and see what happens."

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Was It the Field Fairy?—Part I.

JACK and his sister Nina were two little orphans who had to beg from door to door for their food and a place to sleep.

One day a man named Simon told them if they would work for him he would give them a home.

Jack and Nina thought Simon must be a very kind-hearted man to offer them a home, so they worked just as hard as they could to repay him.

But in this they were mistaken, for Simon was a very greedy, hard-hearted man and only offered to let the children stay if he might get their work for nothing.

Jack did all the chores about the farm and Nina took care of the house, although they were both much too small to do such hard work.

In return Simon gave them a place to sleep on the floor of the attic and very little to eat.

One day Simon told Jack he was going to sell the big brindle cow to the butcher and that he was to drive the next day to the town, a few miles away.

Jack and Nina were very fond of Brindle Cow and wept bitterly when they heard this. They begged Simon to let the old fellow have her, but he told them he would not listen to any such silly chatter and for Jack to be off the next morning bright and early.

How to Weather Marriage

VI.—How a Woman Can "Choose" a Husband.

By Helen Rowland.

"HUSBANDS are like Christmas gifts! You can't choose them; you simply have to wait until they come along and then try to appear perfectly delighted with what you get."

I can scarcely believe that only a few years ago I wrote that aphorism, and that I actually believed it. One of the brightest spots in the war-cloud's silver lining is the fact that it is no longer true!

Can a girl "pick and choose" her own husband? Yes, she CAN—at last! I don't mean to imply that she can go out, off-hand, and lassoo any person of the opposite sex who looks like her "ideal" for the moment. But neither can a man do that.

What I do mean is that a girl CAN CHOOSE whether or not she will marry. There are 80 many things in a modern woman's life besides husbands! To be a "spinster" no longer means to be a "blighted being." There is no longer any stigma attached to single blessedness. And, unless a woman can find the RIGHT husband, she does not feel positively OBLIGED to marry at all.

This does not signify that "choosing a husband" will be a sinecure, and that every girl will "choose" with intelligence. Most of us will continue to choose with our hearts, thank Heaven! Besides, most husbands are as different "before" and "after" taking as the pictures in the patent medicine advertisements. You can find out so little about a man—or a woman either—before marriage. In all the little matters of habits and idiosyncrasies a woman must take her chances. And so must a man, bless him!

But there are certain big, vital, essential qualities in a man's character and makeup concerning which every girl can and MUST be absolutely certain before she braves the sea of matrimony with him—three big, vital qualities, without which no man can make any woman happy.

First, he must be a BUSY man! An idler makes a very charming dance partner, but for a life partner give me a man who goes down to the office before 9 a. m. and works so hard all day that he is glad to come straight back home at 6 p. m.

Nothing on earth but good honest hard work will keep a man out of mischief after marriage.

Second, he must be KIND—and you can't judge the size of his heart by the size of his tip to the waiter or his fee to the check-room boy. You can judge it only by his gentleness and devotion to his family, his consideration for his employers or employees; by the way in which the office boy beams on him, the elevator man greets him, and his men friends regard him; by his kindness to children, animals and old ladies, and above all, by the way in which he treats his MOTHER. For exactly as he treats her, so will he treat her successor—his wife!

Third, if you are a really modern woman—he must be CONGENIAL. For, in a normal modern marriage, you will spend most of your PLAY-TIME together, and a difference of tastes in jokes, books, plays, sports and amusements means continual martyrdom for one and continual boredom for the other. It's not the sorrows and troubles they share, but the pleasures and pastimes they DON'T share, which separate most married pairs. Without a helpmate you may exist, but without a playmate all life is stale, flat and unprofitable.

Given these three basic qualities for happiness, it doesn't matter much whether the husband you choose is rich or poor, handsome or plain, young or old. Without them he may be a combination of Croesus-Solomon-and-the-Apollo Belvedere, and yet make life one long, hideous dreary waste for you.

And—ah!—the same test applies in choosing a wife.

Fished in Vain.

MRS. FISHER: You wouldn't suppose that I had a son in school, would you?

Mr. Blunt: No, indeed. I had an idea that all your children must be through college by this time.

Teacher: What animals are skinned to provide women with fur wraps?

Willie: Husbands.

Perfectly Delicious—Highly Nutritious

Made From Corn

For Salads
For Shortening
For Frying
For Seasoning

This new salad and cooking oil is a scientific food dainty made from the heart of corn.

Users report it perfectly delicious. Food experts pronounce it highly nutritious. Economy suggests its adoption for every salad and cooking purpose.

Douglas Oil succeeds olive oil for salads. It replaces butter for shortening. It is better than any other fat for seasoning and frying.

And, in every use, Douglas Oil supplies you with high powered energy food in its most perfectly digestible and easily assimilated form.

Douglas Oil

Douglas Oil makes the best salads ever served. You will like it better than olive oil without considering its cost, which is much less.

There are no secrets in the use of Douglas Oil for shortening. Just stir it into the sugar as you would butter. The results are the same, but it is only necessary to use two-thirds as much.

For frying it doesn't absorb flavors or odors, so can be used again and again.

Ask your dealer for Douglas Oil. If he hasn't it in stock, insist that he get it for you. There is no risk in a trial can—satisfaction is guaranteed.

MINORS TO DEMAND THAT MAJOR DRAFT RULE BE ABOLISHED

Refusal of National Commission May Bring About Split Between Organizations.

Ban Johnson Declares Minors Incapable of Managing Own Affairs

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—AUGUST HERMANN, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, is here from Cincinnati, O., today, to confer with Ban Johnson, president of the American League. The report from Peoria that the minor league representatives were demanding the abolition of the draft or severance of relations between the majors and the minors, was reported to be one of the subjects to be considered.

Referring to that demand, President Johnson said:

"The plans we have for restoring baseball after the war contemplate building from the ground and that means the abolition of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which for years has been incapable of managing its own affairs. In fact, the great majority of cases that have come before the National Commission in recent years have been minor league cases on appeal. We contemplate a reorganization that will provide a better government for the minor leagues."

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 15.—A split between the National Association of Minor League Baseball Clubs and the National Commission may result from demands to be presented by a committee representing the minors in which they will ask for the abolition of the draft agreement and that in the future the majors purchase players direct from the minor league club owners at the price asked.

Al Tearney of Chicago, president of the Three-Base League, was named chairman of the committee, with Joe Tinker of Columbus and Jack Holland, president of the Oklahoma City club, in the Western League, as the other members.

A refusal of the demand will be met by breaking off of relations between the organization and commission. Player drafts among the minors themselves will be permitted, but the price will be raised on the various classifications with class AA at the top.

New Salary Limits Fixed.

New salary limits were fixed for all the leagues, with the exception of the three Class AA circuits. The salary limit in Class A was fixed at $2500 a month; Class B, $2000; Class C, $1400 and D $1200. Failure to enforce these limits will result in fines for the first two offenses and forfeiture of franchise for the third.

The classification of new leagues to be formed will be determined by the aggregate population. Class AA circuits must have an aggregate of 1,250,000; Class A, 1,000,000; Class B, 400,000 to 1,000,000; class C, 200,000 to 400,000; Class D, 200,000.

It also was decided that the territory formerly claimed by the Three-Base League, Central League and Central Association was now open.

Public Will Get Its First Look at 1918 Football, When Ban Lifts, Tomorrow

St. Louis University Opens Home Season Against Great Lakes Aviators—Gate Receipts to Go to United War Work Fund—Funston and Scott Field Provide Preliminary.

THE 1918 football season, though making a belated start, will get under way tomorrow with an attractive double header at Sportsman's Park, the first occasion this year when the public will be admitted to the games. St. Louis University's strong eleven, coached by Ernest C. Quigley, and the Great Lakes Aviators, a regimental outfit from the training station near Chicago, will provide the feature event.

The first game of the twin bill will be no less attractive, though hardly will hold local interest as will the second. The Camp Funston aggregation and Scott Field are down to meet in the opener of the afternoon. The service teams were obtained to provide a double bill because the entire gate receipts of the Sportsman's Park attraction are to go to the United War Work Fund. Both Funston and Scott Field have strong elevens.

Playing but three games this season, only one of which was against a collegiate organization, Coach Quigley's Billikens have had little chance to test their mettle. They defeated McKendree College, 76 to 0, at Lebanon, came back later and trounced Scott Field, 21 to 7 and last Saturday lost to De Pauw, 10 to 6.

Local fans have been awaiting a chance to watch the Billikens perform, particularly since those who have watched Quigley in action with the squad have pronounced his methods both unique and practical. There is small doubt that the Billikens, if they adhere to Quigley's instructions, will play smart football, even though beaten and for the first time this year, the public will be permitted to judge of the merits of Quigley's methods.

Father H. A. Hermans, athletic director at St. Louis University, and upon whose shoulders the burdens of a season fraught with all the uncertainties of war and the influenza epidemic, have fallen heavily, announced early today that the Great Lakes team will arrive here tomorrow morning.

Local Boys in Line.

Little is known of the strength of the Naval Aviators. However, their lineup includes three St. Louis boys, Boise Potthoff, Tally O'Connor and Johnny Wagner, each of whom was a real star on the gridiron here. Consequently, their presence is bound to create the rivalry necessary in an enthusiastic crowd.

A rally and "pop" meeting will be held at St. Louis University this evening, in the Auditorium. It is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock. Coach Quigley will make the principal address of the evening. Maj. H. S. Gemmill, military commander at St. Louis, has ordered all S. A. T. C. to march to Sportsman's Park tomorrow, headed by the University band.

Coach Quigley early today pronounced every man on his squad physically fit for the game tomorrow. He will hold a protracted practice session this afternoon, however, which will include a session of "roughing it" which borders dangerously close to scrimmage. If the coach employs the appended lineup tomorrow, he will have an eleven averaging about 170 pounds. The first game will begin at 1 p. m. and it is hoped to start the Billikens-Great Lakes affair about 3 o'clock. The tentative lineups:

St. Louis U. Positions. Great Lakes. While, Left end. Corneilus. Godfrey, Left tackle. Becker. Meinhart, Left guard. Becker. Kotkin, Center. Rasmussen. Barber, Right guard. Wilson. Signalgo, Right tackle. Hooker. Duke, Right end. Hogan. Robertson or. Quarterback. Weintraub. O'Donnell, Left halfback. Potthoff. Thornton, Right halfback. O'Connor. Higgins, Fullback. Wagner or. Worth.

HIGH SCHOOLS START TITLE RACE TOMORROW

Central and Soldan Clash in Feature Game—Season to Close Dec. 14.

The interscholastic League football championship race, which begins tomorrow, will conclude on Dec. 14, it was decided at a meeting of high school officials yesterday. The games as originally scheduled were adhered to, excepting that they were moved back another week.

The Saturday afternoon Thanksgiving day is an open date, but Soldan was given the privilege of utilizing High School Field, if it desires to stage a game on that date.

Tomorrow's double header, which marks the opening of the High School race, features Central and Soldan, who are booked to play the second game. Cleveland and Yeatman are down to clash in the opener. McKinley has drawn a date, but Coach Crosby has arranged a game with Alton High School for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at High School Field.

Had not the long postponement because of the quarantine been necessary, it is highly probable that Coach Walker's Central eleven would have gone into the battle with Soldan a top-heavy favorite, because Walker's aggregation showed by far the best form of any prep machine, early in the season.

As it now stands, however, the experts concede Soldan a very good chance to beat Central. The figures show Coach Cook's outfit will have an appreciable weight advantage, particularly in the line. Cleveland, which trounced Clayton decisively in its last out, should have no trouble administering a like dose to Yeatman. The first game tomorrow will begin at 1:30 o'clock. The probable lineups:

FIRST GAME.

Cleveland. Positions. Yeatman. Kerchoff (126).....L. E. Wellman (143) Greig (170).....L. G. Gould (160) Moody (140).....L. T. Ballman (162) Velt (155).....C. G. E. E. (162) Stretch (168).....R. G. ## LOCAL GIRL SWIMMERS TO MEET IN INDIANAPOLIS STARS IN MEET TONIGHT

St. Louis girl swimmers will get a chance to show their prowess in duel competition tonight, when they oppose a team of girls of the Independent A. C. of Indianapolis in the latter's pool tonight. The local aggregation is made up of the Misses Grace Stewart, Adeline Jarvis, Evelyn Riede, Irene Fortune and Ruth Wilderman. The latter was substituted for Miss Stewart.

The team to oppose these girls as selected by William Merriam, swimming instructor of the Indianapolis Club, is composed of Mrs. Kinder, Miss Thelma Darby, Regina Reis, Minna Margaret Lauter and Euphrasia Donnelly.

There will be eight events on the program as follows: 100-yard relay race, fancy diving, 50-yard dash, 200-yard breast stroke, 25-yard race, plunges for distance, 100-yard back stroke and 100-yard dash.

The lineup of the team that will face the girls is as follows: Gellerman, Innisfaile, goal; T. Brady, Scullins and Holland, Innisfaile, fullback; Miller, St. Louis Screw, Zarski, Scullins and -chewes, Innisfaile, halfbacks; Mulvey, Scullins, Reichtold, St. Louis Screw, Potee, Ben Millers, Kennedy, St. Louis Screw and McHenry, Ben Millers, forwards.

The Great Lakes team, 15 strong, made up mostly of St. Louis boys, is scheduled to arrive here some time today and there is a chance that the kickers will work out at Cardinal Field tomorrow.

Sunday's game will start at 2:30 o'clock. Phil Kavanaugh, will act as referee, while Paul McSweeney, William Egan, Dr. A. Murray and Billy Bascom will act as line men.

The Great Lakes players who will come here are: Oberle, Hack, Corrigan, McLoughlin, Leo, Pfeiffer, Ledger, Humphert McCormick, Marce and Rooney, St. Louis boys, and Johnson, Clark and Baker from other cities. Company commander Bill Rasmussen and manager George Miller also will be here. The uniforms of the eleven will be blue.

Mayor Kiel has been invited to attend, while it also was announced that the Great Lakes band would be present.

MINORS TO DEMAND THAT MAJOR DRAFT RULE BE ABOLISHED

Refusal of National Commission May Bring About Split Between Organizations.

Ban Johnson Declares Minors Incapable of Managing Own Affairs

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—AUGUST HERRMANN, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, is here from Cincinnati, O., today to confer with Ban Johnson, president of the American League. The report from Peoria that the minor league representatives were demanding the abolition of the draft or severance of relations between the majors and the minors, was reported to be one of the subjects to be considered.

Referring to that demand, President Johnson said:

"The plans we have for restoring baseball after the war contemplate building from the ground and that means the abolition of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which for years has been incapable of managing its own affairs. In fact, the great majority of cases that have come before the National Commission in recent years have been minor league cases on appeal. We contemplate a reorganization that will provide a better government for the minor leagues."

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 15.—A split between the National Association of Minor League Baseball Clubs and the National Commission may result from demands to be presented by a committee representing the minors in which they will ask for the abolishment of the draft agreement and that in the future the majors purchase players direct from the minor league club owners at the price asked.

Al Tearney of Chicago, president of the Three-Base League, was named chairman of the committee, with Joe Tinker of Columbus and Jack Holland, president of the Oklahoma City club in the Western League, as the other members. A refusal of the demand will be met by breaking off of relations between the organization and commission. Player profits among the minors themselves will be permitted, but the price will be raised on the various classifications with class AA at the top.

New Salary Limits Fixed.

New salary limits were fixed for all the leagues, with the exception of the three Class AA circuits. The salary limit in Class A was fixed at $2500 a month; Class B, $2000; Class C, $1400 and D $1200. Failure to enforce these limits will result in fines for the first two offenses and forfeiture of franchises for the third.

The classification of new leagues to be formed will be determined by the aggregate population. Class AA circuits must have an aggregate of 1,750,000; Class A, 1,000,000; Class B, 400,000 to 1,000,000; Class C, 200,000 to 400,000; Class D, 200,000.

It also was decided that the territory formerly claimed by the Three Base League, Central League and Central Association was now open.

Public Will Get Its First Look at 1918 Football, When Ban Lifts, Tomorrow

St. Louis University Opens Home Season Against Great Lakes Aviators—Gate Receipts to Go to United War Work Fund—Funston and Scott Field Provide Preliminary.

THE 1918 football season, though making a belated start, will get under way tomorrow with an attractive double header at Sportsman's Park, the first occasion this year when the public will be admitted to the games. St. Louis University's strong eleven, coached by Ernest C. Quigley, and the Great Lakes Aviators, a regimental outfit from the training station near Chicago, will provide the feature event.

The first game of the twin bill will be no less attractive, though hardly will hold local interest as will the second. The Camp Funston aggregation and Scott Field are down to meet in the opener of the afternoon. The service teams were obtained to provide a double bill because the entire gate receipts of the Sportsman's Park attraction are to go to the United War Work Fund. Both Funston and Scott Field have strong eleven.

Playing but three games this season, only one of which was against a collegiate organization, Coach Quigley's Billikens have had little chance to test their mettle. They defeated McKendree College, 76 to 0, at Lebanon, came back later and trounced Scott Field, 21 to 7 and last Saturday lost to De Pauw, 10 to 6.

Local fans have been awaiting a chance to watch the Billikens perform, particularly since those who have watched Quigley in action with the squad have pronounced his methods both unique and practical. There is small doubt that the Billikens, if they adhere to Quigley's instructions, will play smart football, even though beaten and for the first time this year, the public will be permitted to judge of the merits of Quigley's methods.

Father H. A. Hermans, athletic director at St. Louis University, and upon whose shoulders the burdens of a season fraught with all the uncertainties of war and the influenza epidemic, have fallen heavily, announced early today that the Great Lakes eleven will arrive here tomorrow morning.

Local Boys in Line.

Little is known of the strength of the Naval Aviators. However, their lineup includes three St. Louis boys, Boise Potthoff, Talty O'Connor and Johnny Wagner, each of whom was a real star on the gridiron here. Consequently, their presence is bound to create the rivalry necessary in an enthusiastic crowd of "rooters."

A rally and the first time this evening, in the Auditorium. It is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock. Coach Quigley will make the principal address of the evening. Maj. H. S. Gemmill, military commandant at St. Louis U., has ordered all S. A. T. C. to Sportsman's Park tomorrow, headed by the University band.

Coach Quigley early today pronounced every man on his squad physically fit for the game tomorrow. He will hold a protracted practice session this afternoon, however, which will include a session of "roughing it" which borders dangerously close to scrimmage. If the coach employs the appended lineup tomorrow, he will have an eleven averaging about 170 pounds. The first game will begin at 1 p. m. and it is hoped to start the Billikens-Great Lakes affair about 3 o'clock. The tentative lineups:

St. Louis U. Positions. Great Lakes
While. Left end. Cannon
Godfrey. Left tackle. Cornelius
Hartshorn. Left guard. Kottus
Kottus. Center. Rasmussen
Hartshorn. Right guard. Stocker
Kottus. Right tackle. Stocker
Kottus. Right end. Ragan
Kottus. Quarterback. Weirauch
Higgins. Fullback. Wagner

HIGH SCHOOLS START TITLE RACE TOMORROW

Central and Soldan Clash in Feature Game—Season to Close Dec. 14.

The Interscholastic League football championship race, which begins tomorrow, will conclude on Dec. 14. It was decided at a meeting of high school officials yesterday. The games are originally scheduled to be held on Saturday, but were moved back another week.

The Saturday after Thanksgiving day is an open date, but Soldan was given the privilege of utilizing High School Field, if it desires to stage a game on that date.

Tomorrow's double header, which marks the opening of the High School race, features Central and Soldan, who are booked to play the second game. Cleveland and Yeatman are down to clash in the opener. McKinley has drawn an open date, but Coach Crosby has arranged a game with Alton High School for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at High School Field.

Had not the long postponement because of the quarantine been necessary, it is highly probable that Coach Walker's Central eleven would have gone into the battle with Soldan a top-heavy favorite, because Walker's aggregation showed by far the best form of any prep machine, early in the season.

As it now stands, however, the experts concede Soldan a very good chance to beat Central. The figures show Coach Cook's outfit will have an appreciable weight advantage, particularly in the line. Cleveland, which trounced Clayton decisively in its last out, should have no trouble administering a like dose to Yeatman. The first game tomorrow will begin at 1:30 o'clock. The probable lineups:

FIRST GAME. Yeatman.

ALL FOES LOOK ALIKE TO LEO KELLY; BEATS "HEAVY" IN 3 ROUNDS

Man, here's a regular fellow—meet Sgt. Leo Kelly, Camp Greenleaf. It is not often that a professional fighter does anything for nothing. Most of the war benefit shows have been strictly "exhibition"—no fighting. With Kelly it's different. He had been asked to box for the local war work boxing benefit, now called off. Did he pick his opponent, ask the weights, or limit the number of rounds? Here's Kelly's telegram, in part:

Anyone you get for me is O. K. I am boxing them at all weights now. Beat a heavyweight last night in three rounds. How many rounds do I go up there? Twenty is all right. Kelly weighs 145 pounds.

With that kind of men fighting for him, how could Uncle Sam possibly lose?

Sunday's game will start at 2:30 o'clock. Phil Kavanaugh, will act as referee, while Paul McSweney, William Egan, Dr. A. Murray and Billy Bascom will act as line men.

The Great Lakes players who will come here are: Oberle, Hack, Corrigan, McLaughlin, Lee, Pfeiffer, Ledger, Humphreys, McCormick, Maree and Rooney. St. Louis boys, and Johnson, Clark and Baker from other cities. Company commander Bill Rankin and manager George Miller also will be here. The uniforms of the eleven will be blue.

Mayor Kiel has been invited to attend, while it also was announced that the Great Lakes band would be present.

Leo Schneider Here.

Leo Schneider, the local featherweight boxer, who is now a boxing instructor at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, is at present here on a five-day furlough. He will leave Sunday night. Schneider states that he likes the life at Great Lakes better than he at first thought he would. He has gained several pounds in weight and says he is stronger than ever.

Joie Ray Is Injured.

Joie Ray, the National A. U. 1-mile champion, will be out of competition for about a month because of an injury to his right foot. He was expected to start in the carnival at New York Nov. 22, but has notified the officials that he will be unable to start.

Catcher McGraw Dead.

PENNY ANTE—Somebody's Wife Phones. By Jean Knott

"SAY, POP!"—ALKALI IKE PUTS ONE OVER.—By PAYNE.

GRINDSTONE GEORGE—THE JOB OF PUTTING UP A MANTEL ISN'T TO BE SNEEZED AT.

IT SEEMS THAT THEY LOST EITHER WAY.

The Manner of Speech.

A GREAT deal depends on how a thing is said. "True," commented Miss Cayenne. "If you want anything to be believed, don't say it in German."—Washington Star.

Play a fast game. Success is merely doing something before other people think of it.—Philadelphia Record.

These Would "Go" Home.

A BENEVOLENT old gentleman was walking through the outskirts of a town when a woman started out into the road, unmercifully beating a little lad. "My good woman," exclaimed the kindly one as he seized the woman's arm to stop her, "you mustn't do that! What harm has he done?" "What! I mustn't do that? What harm has he done?" she shrieked. "If you would like to know, he has opened the hen roost and all the fowls have got away."

One Way.

"HOW have you managed to keep your cook so long in these days of big pay everywhere?" "Oh, I just took a simple way. I gave her a mortgage on the house."—Baltimore American.

Out of His Class.

THE man who had made his pile was at last happy. He had managed to squeeze himself into a very exclusive golf club. On his first visit he looked around for a possible partner at a game, and approached a stout gentleman whose deportment suggested social standing. "Certainly, sir," replied the latter, in answer to the newcomer's invitation. Then as they approached the first tee he went on: "By the way, I'm a four man. What are you?" The novice was startled, but after a minute's consideration he said: "Foreman, are ye? Well, I'm a straw 'at manufacturer."—London Fun.

"I'd like to take out some insurance, Mat!" "Not on your life."

How to Bale Paper.

USE a box 13x5 inches and 10 inches high. Bore two holes in the front and two in the back of the box, each hole being four inches from both the bottom and sides. Insert two ropes, each one yard long, from side to side, and tie a knot on each end of the rope. For tying papers place strings across the bottom of box both ways, pull ropes from inside of box and hang over the ends of box, then place papers in box and pull ropes tight on one side of box and pull strings around the paper.

Those kind husbands who dry the dishes for their wives may find refuge in the Government edict that no man shall perform work that a woman can do.—Baltimore American.

A Great Jumper.

Muggins: Did Wigwag go in for athletics when he was at college? Buggins: I believe he held the record for jumping at conclusions.—Philadelphia Record.

A critic is an expert fault-finder who can write.—Albany Journal.

Not Exempt.

"They're talking about taxing clothes." "That lets out the barefoot dancer." "Nope; they are also going to tax art."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Pa, what are cosmetics?" "Cosmetics, my son, are peach preserves."—Awgwan.
